re envisioning the contemporary art canon perspectives in a global world seeks to dissect and interrogate the nature of the present day art field which has experienced dramatic shifts in the past 50 years in discussions of the canon of art history the notion of inclusiveness both at the level of rhetoric and as a desired practice is on the rise and gradually replacing talk of exclusion which dominated critiques of the canon up until two decades ago the art field has dramatically if insufficiently changed in the half century since the first protests and critiques of the exclusion of others from the art canon with increased globalization and shifting geopolitics the art field is expanding beyond its euro american focus as is particularly evident in the large scale international biennales now held all over the globe are canons and counter canons still relevant can they be re envisioned rather than merely revised following an introduction that discusses these issues thirteen newly commissioned essays present case studies of consecration in the contemporary art field and three commissioned discussions present diverse positions on issues of the canon and consecration processes today this volume will be of interest to instructors and students of contemporary art art history and museum and curatorial studies contemporary art world cinema and visual culture essays by hamid dabashi is a collection of writings by the acclaimed cultural critic and scholar a thorough introduction rigorously frames chapters and identifies in dabashi s writings a comprehensive approach which forms the criteria for selecting the essays for the volume the introduction also teases out of these essays the overarching theme that holds them together the manner they inform a particularly critical angle in them and the way they cohere the introduction dwells on the work of one scholar public intellectual and theorist of modern and contemporary arts to extrapolate more universal issues of concern to art criticism in general these scattered materials and their underlying theoretical and critical logic are a unique contribution to the field of modern and contemporary arts contemporary art has never been so popular but the art world is changing in a landscape of increasing globalization there is growing interest in questions over the nature of contemporary art today and the identity of who is controlling its future in the midst of this contemporary art continues to be a realm of freedom where artists shock break taboos flout generally received ideas and switch between confronting viewers with works of great emotional profundity and jaw dropping triviality in this very short introduction julian stallabrass gives a clear view on the diverse and rapidly moving scene of contemporary art exploring art s striking globalisation from the 1990s onwards he analyses how new regions and nations such as china have leapt into astonishing prominence over turning the old euro american dominance on aesthetics showing how contemporary art has drawn closer to fashion and the luxury goods market as artists have become accomplished marketers of their work stallabrass discusses the reinvention of artists as brands this new edition also considers how once powerful art criticism has mutated into a critical and performative writing at which many artists excel above all behind the insistent rhetoric of freedom and ambiguity in art stallabrass explores how big business and the super rich have replaced the state as the primary movers of the contemporary art scene especially since the financial crisis and become a powerful new influence over the art world about the series the very short introductions series from oxford university press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area these pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable artistic interventions are now a popular means of delivering fresh perspectives on museum displays including in galleries devoted to ancient egypt installations are commonly said to put the past and present into dialogue with each other offering external critical voices on the work of decolonisation contemporary art and the display of ancient egypt argues that the contemporary and the ancient do not necessarily inform each other instead they are mediated by and mediations of the museum that produces them rather than explore how contemporary artists have been inspired by egypt this book examines how they have shaped the language and discourse around study of the egyptian past by looking at the wider field of public display in which both have been historically situated building on this critical history of practice the book draws from experiments in bringing contemporary artistic sculptures conceptual pieces multimedia films sounds smells and performances into galleries at the british museum in london the egyptian museum in turin and the state museum of egyptian art in munich these are used to explore what contemporary art does in these spaces the motivations for inviting artists in and the legacies of those interventions it ends with a reflection on how academics and curators can be involved in the creative process and how artists contribute to academic research praise for contemporary art and the display of ancient egypt this is an important and innovative study on the recent history of incorporating art installations in galleries of egyptian antiquities offering a thoughtful critical analysis of the ways in which contemporary art and ancient artefacts are juxtaposed in museum settings the book calls for a more nuanced and politically engaged practice of collaboration between artists and egyptologists stephanie moser university of southampton archaeologist alice stevenson provides a thoughtful consideration of the goals and intent behind contemporary art interventions in exhibitions of ancient egyptian art she challenges the curators scholars and museum professionals who design these exhibitions to move beyond the simplistic ancient art contemporary art juxtaposition and instead use contemporary art interventions to create spaces for both artistic and academic insight and inspiration i look forward to such dialogue kara cooney ucla to what extent does locality influence contemporary art can any particular artistic practices be defined as uniquely cypriot and does art from cyprus transcend western boundaries once it enters the global art scene this volume uses cyprus as a case study for the exploration of notions of identity regionalism and the global and local in contemporary art practice it is not therefore a complete historiography of contemporary cypriot art rather this critical text provides a theoretical and historical framework that frames and contextualizes art practices from cyprus while always relating these back to the international art world numerous current and pressing issues all relevant beyond cyprus are investigated in this book including but not limited to art as capital the emergence of the periphery the importance of thriving localities issues of memory and memorialization archaeology artists identities conflict and politics social engagement gender politics and such curatorial alternatives as artist run spaces in doing all of this contemporary art from cyprus not only bears on current and future art practices in this region but highlights the importance of cypriot art in a global context too
