the current debate in western europe centers on the relationship between economic and political integration to address this problem we construct a simple general equilibrium model in which the returns to trading are directly affected by the availability of a public good in our model heterogeneous agents choose both a club and a market to belong to in the club agents vote over the public good are taxed to finance this good and receive access to it when they trade in the market they are randomly matched with a partner if a match occurs between traders of different clubs they both suffer a transactions cost we show that in general the political boundaries established by the clubs can be distinct from market borders leading to international trade between members of different clubs further as the region develops markets become wider eventually leading to a common market and the desire to avoid transaction costs initially leads to political unification at still higher levels of development however where transaction costs are less important traders prefer the diversity offered by multiple clubs
