Most organizations consist of multiple business and support units each populated by highly trained experienced executives but often the efforts of individual units are not coordinated resulting in conflicts, lost opportunities and diminished performance. Robert S. Kaplan and David P. Norton argue that the responsibility for this critical alignment lies with corporate headquarters. In this book the authors apply their revolutionary balanced scorecard management system to corporate level strategy revealing how highly successful enterprises achieve powerful synergies by explicitly defining corporate headquarters' role in setting, coordinating and overseeing organizational strategy based on extensive field research. In organizations worldwide alignment shows how companies can build an enterprise level strategy map and balanced scorecard that clearly articulate the enterprise value proposition, how the enterprise creates value above that achieved by individual business units operating alone. The book provides case studies, actionable frameworks and sample scorecards that show how to align business and support units, boards of directors and external partners with the corporate strategy and create a governance process that will ensure that alignment is sustained. The next breakthrough in strategy execution from the field's premier thinkers alignment shows how today's companies can unlock unrealized value from enterprise synergies.

More than a decade ago Robert S. Kaplan and David P. Norton introduced the balanced scorecard, a revolutionary performance measurement system that allowed organizations to quantify intangible assets such as people, information and customer relationships. Then in the strategy-focused organization Kaplan and Norton showed how organizations achieved breakthrough performance with a management system that put the balanced scorecard into action. Now using their ongoing research with hundreds of balanced scorecard adopters across the globe the authors have created a powerful new tool, the strategy map, that enables companies to describe the links between intangible assets and value creation with a clarity and precision never before possible. Kaplan and Norton argue that the most critical aspect of strategy implementation is in a way that ensures sustained value creation depends on managing four key internal processes: operations, customer relationships, innovation and regulatory and social processes. The authors show how companies can use strategy maps to link those processes to desired outcomes, evaluate, measure and improve the processes most critical to success and target investments in human, informational and organizational capital, providing a visual 'aha' for executives everywhere who can't figure out why their strategy isn't working strategy maps is a blueprint any organization can follow to align processes people and information technology for superior performance
