excerpt from english composition and rhetoric a manual numerous attempts have been made and are still making to methodize instruction in english composition in these attempts two distinct efforts are made for the benefit of the pupils to cultivate in them a copious fund of expression and to render more delicate their discrimination of good and ill effects as regards increasing the pupils fund of expression the english teacher can do comparatively little the reason is obvious the command of language is a grand total resulting from the practice of a life a small fraction of that total is all that can grow up within the limits of a course of english composition with respect to the other aim the discrimination between good and bad in expression the case is different much of the necessary instruction can be condensed into principles and may be impressed by carefully chosen examples the teacher is here a trainer and can impart in a short compass what without him would be acquired slowly if at all it is this accordingly that i account his principal vocation about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work. forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully. Any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

This is a reproduction of the original artefact. Generally, these books are created from careful scans of the original. This allows us to preserve the book accurately and present it in the way the author intended. Since the original versions are generally quite old, there may occasionally be certain imperfections within these reproductions. We're happy to make these classics available again for future generations to enjoy.

Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts, 1. We have not used OCR (Optical Character Recognition), as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos. 2. In books where there are images, such as portraits, maps, sketches, etc., we have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact. Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts, we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy.

This scarce antiquarian book is a facsimile reprint of the original. Due to its age, it may contain imperfections such as marks, notations, marginalia, and flawed pages. Because we believe this work is culturally important, we have made it available as part of our commitment for protecting, preserving, and promoting the world's literature in affordable, high-quality modern editions that are true to the original work.
