genre gender bender fiction formerly incarcerated formerly a male formerly sure he d made the right decision brad now brandy is a proverbial fish out of water in a world full of ravenous sharks and unavoidable complications facing challenges she hadn t anticipated with her parents on a mission to win an election their son turned daughter is a distraction they don t need but rehabilitated she just may be their ticket to a deluge of much needed sympathy votes after an intervention from an expert brandy is seen as a hot commodity but not in the way anyone would ve seen coming when brandy s male past and her female present world collide she s forced to make an impossible choice find a way to reclaim her manhood or stay feminine forever this 35 000 word feminization story contains detailed descriptions of sex with a muscled man and domineering women with a firm touch of dominance it s intended for those who love steamy tg stories involving men who changed into girls transgender studies is the latest area of academic inquiry to grow out of the exciting nexus of queer theory feminist studies and the history of sexuality because transpeople challenge our most fundamental assumptions about the relationship between bodies desire and identity the field is both fascinating and contentious the transgender studies reader puts between two covers fifty influential texts with new introductions by the editors that taken together document the evolution of transgender studies in the english speaking world by bringing together the voices and experience of transgender individuals doctors psychologists and academically based theorists this volume will be a foundational text for the transgender community transgender studies and related queer theory a uniquely revealing biography of two eminent twentieth century american women close friends for much of their lives ruth benedict and margaret mead met at barnard college in 1922 when mead was a student benedict a teacher they became sexual partners though both married and pioneered in the then male dominated discipline of anthropology they championed racial and sexual equality and cultural relativity despite the generally racist xenophobic and homophobic tenor of their era mead s best selling coming of age in samoa 1928 and sex and temperament in three primitive societies 1935 and benedict s patterns of culture 1934 race 1940 and the chrysanthemum and the sword 1946 were landmark studies that ensured the lasting prominence and influence of their authors in the field of anthropology and beyond with unprecedented access to the complete archives of the two women including hundreds of letters opened to scholars in 2001 lois banner examines the impact of their difficult childhoods and the relationship between them in the context of their circle of family friends husbands lovers and colleagues as well as the calamitous events of their time she shows how benedict inadvertently exposed mead to charges of professional incompetence discloses the serious errors new zealand anthropologist derek freeman made in his famed attack on mead s research on samoa and reveals what happened in new guinea when mead and colleagues engaged in a ritual aimed at overturning all gender and sexual boundaries in this illuminating and innovative work banner has given us the most detailed balanced and informative portrait of mead and benedict individually and together that we have had from the hardcover edition this study explores a character type who is neither androgynous nor feminine presenting a critique of the way in which the term androgynous has been misapplied to the feminized male and through the use of reader response theory argues that this type of figure appeals to female readers because he reflects parts of themselves often ignored or outrightly ridiculed through male literary representation the book presents new arguments about characters created by james joyce ulysses ernest hemingway the sun also rises the garden of eden jack kerouac on the road and saul bellow humboldt s gift advancing a growing body of research rejecting the majority view of these four writers as antifeminine artists the feminized male whose male creator has intentionally endowed him with feminine as well as masculine qualities in an effort to explore the complexities of gender in a dialectically social via literary realm presents a powerful technique to explore challenge and re define gender not only in fiction but in everyday lives as well for years mainstream feminist ethics focused criticism on male supremacy feminist philosophers in this volume adopt a less male focused stance to look closely at oppression s impact on women s agency and on women s relations with women examining legal social and physical relationships these philosophers confront moral ambiguity moral compromise and complicity in perpetuating oppression combining personal experience with philosophical inquiry they vividly portray their daily engagement with oppression as both victims and perpetrators they explore such issues as how pornography silences women and radical feminist politics complicity in racism among these insightful essays sandra bartky argues that women share guilt for racism when they benefit from it without protest susan brison reflects on uses of narrative in trauma recovery from such experiences as being targeted for rape or murder joan callahan examines fallout of derogatory speech directed at lesbians virginia held proposes carrying care into marketplaces and governments and in her introduction claudia card draws on primo levi's conception of gray zones in exploring dangers of character damage to victims of misogyny a fitting companion to card's highly regarded feminist ethics this volume interweaves observations on character political ethics violence and love into an accessible sourcebook for students it tackles some of feminism's most pressing issues and helps readers to identify and then overcome the real damage caused by oppression
