ethical concerns The forced nature of the union inherently challenges the core principles of consent and agency in relationships The trope often features situations where one character is coerced into marriage with little to no consideration for their personal desires or romantic preferences The potential for power imbalances within these forced marriages is also a crucial point of discussion The trope frequently portrays a scenario where one character typically with higher social standing or power dictates the terms of the relationship This dynamic can potentially perpetuate harmful stereotypes and reinforce problematic power structures within romantic relationships Furthermore the marriage by command trope often romanticizes the idea of finding love in unexpected places While finding love in unexpected circumstances can be compelling this trope may inadvertently undermine the importance of healthy communication shared values and mutual respect as the foundations of a fulfilling relationship Moving Forward The enduring popularity of the marriage by command trope in Mills Boon novels highlights the complexities of modern romance narratives It reflects both the enduring desire for love and connection and the ongoing challenge of navigating complex social expectations and power dynamics within relationships To ensure the continued relevance and ethical sensitivity of romance novels authors and readers alike should engage in critical discussions about the tropes they engage with Examining the potential for problematic power dynamics and unrealistic expectations within these narratives is essential By fostering open dialogue and critical reflection we can ensure that romance literature continues to inspire and entertain while promoting healthy respectful and fulfilling relationships 3

this book focuses on the projection of the hero s masculinity in a selection of post millennial popular romance narratives and attempts to discover if and to what extent this projection reinforces or challenges patriarchal ideas about gender in the majority of these narratives the hero is often presented as a hegemonic alpha male however hegemonic masculinity is not a fixed concept rather it is subject to continuous change which allows for the emergence of various dominant masculinities under a poststructuralist lens and through a close textual analysis approach and a gender reading of romance narratives the book suggests that to a certain extent the romance hero could be described as a platform onto which different forms of dominant masculinity are displayed and highlights that these masculinities do not necessarily clash depend on or function as a prerequisite for each other
