in 1920 w e b du bois cited the damnation of women as linked to the devaluation of motherhood this dilemma he argues had a crushing blow on black women as they were forced into slavery black womanhood portrayed as hypersexual by nature became an enduring stereotype which did not coincide with the dignity of mother and wife this portrayal continues to reinforce negative stereotypes of black women in the media today this book highlights how black women have been negatively portrayed in the media focusing on the export nature of media and its ability to convey notions of blackness to the public it argues that media such as rap music videos television dramas reality television shows and newscasts create and affect expectations of black women exploring the role that racism misogyny and media play in the representation of black womanhood it provides a foundation for challenging contemporary media's portrayal of black women dimensions of black conservatism in the us is a collection of twelve essays by leading black intellectuals and scholars on varied dimensions of black conservative thought and activism the book explores the political role and functions of black neoconservatives the majority of essays cover the contemporary period the authors have provided a historical context for the reader with several articles examining the origins and development of black conservatism no group of american minority voters shifted allegiance more dramatically in the 1930s than black americans did up until the new deal era blacks had shown their traditional loyalty to the party of lincoln by voting overwhelmingly the republican ticket by the end of f d roosevelt's first administration however they tremendously voted the democratic ticket the decades long wholesale attachment of blacks to the party of lincoln with its laudable efforts to support blacks emancipation proclamation and reconstruction was understandable and inevitable enough the anomaly was the massive shift by blacks to the democratic party traditionally identified with its long list of constant anti black and premeditated opposition to black liberation opposition to emancipation and reconstruction and with an ongoing record of all forms of racial discrimination segregation disfranchisement exclusion white primaries and white supremacy the transformation of the black vote from solidly republican to solidly democratic did not happen instantaneously but rather it developed over decades of maturing as a result of the amalgamated efforts of presidents and black leaders the move of black voters toward the democratic party was part of a nationwide trend that had occurred with the creation of the roosevelt coalition of 1936 this national shift would make the democrats the majority party for the next several decades including a very decisive margin of black voters in the balance of power
