art historian Éva forgács's book is an unusual take on the bauhaus she examines the school as shaped by the great forces of history as well as the personal dynamism of its faculty and students the book focuses on the idea of the bauhaus the notion that the artist should be involved in the technological innovations of mechanization and mass production rather than on its artefacts founded in 1919 by the architect walter gropius and closed down by the nazis in 1933 the bauhaus had to struggle through the years of weimar germany not only with its political foes but also with the often diverging personal ambitions and concepts within its own ranks it is the inner conflicts and their solutions the continuous modification of the original bauhaus idea by politics within and without that make the history of the school and forgács s account of it dramatic forty five key women of the bauhaus movement bauhaus women a global perspective reclaims the other half of bauhaus history yielding a new understanding of the radical experiments in art and life undertaken at the bauhaus and the innovations that continue to resonate with viewers around the world today the story of the bauhaus has usually been kept narrow localised to its original time and place and associated with only a few famous men such as walter gropius marcel breuer paul klee wassily kandinsky and lászló moholy nagy bauhaus women a global perspective bursts the bounds of this slim history by revealing fresh bauhaus faces forty five bauhaus women unjustifiably forgotten by most history books this book also widens the lens to reveal how the bauhaus drew women from many parts of europe and beyond and how through these cosmopolitan female designers artists and architects it sent the bauhaus message out into the world and to a global audience
