this volume completes the publication of middle babylonian texts from the rosen collection that date to the kassite period a project that was initiated by wilfred h van soldt with cusas 30 in 2015 in this book elena devecchi provides full transliterations translations and extended commentaries of 338 previously unpublished cuneiform tablets from kassite babylonia ca 1475 1155 bce most of the texts are dated to the reigns of nazi maruttaš and kadašman turgu but the collection also includes one tablet dating to the reign of burna buriaš ii and a few documents from the reigns of kadašman enlil ii kudur enlil and Šagarakti Šuriaš as well as some that are not dated the tablets published here are largely administrative records dealing with the income storage and redistribution of agricultural products and byproducts animal husbandry and textile production while legal documents and letters comprise a smaller portion of the collection evidence suggests that these documents originated from an administrative center that interacted closely with the provincial capital nippur and must have been located in its vicinity they thus expand significantly our previous knowledge of the nippur region under kassite rule hitherto almost exclusively based on sources that came from nippur itself and provide substantial new data for the study of central aspects of society economy and administration that traditionally lie at the core of research about kassite babylonia this book explores the powers activities and accountability of mi5 from the end of the second world war to 1964 it argues that mi5 acted with neither statutory authority nor statutory powers and with no obvious forms of statutory accountability it was established as a counter espionage agency yet was beset by espionage scandals on a frequency that suggested if not high levels of incompetence then high levels of distraction and the squandering of resources the book addresses the evolution of mi5 s mandate after the second world war which set out its role and functions and to a limited extent the lines of accountability the surveillance targets of mi5 and the surveillance methods that it used for this purpose with a focus in two chapters on mps and lawyers respectively the purposes for which this information was used principally to exclude people from certain forms of employment and the accountability of mi5 or the lack thereof for the way in which it discharged its responsibilities under the mandate as lawyers the authors concern is to consider these questions within the context of the rule of law one of the core principles of the british constitution the values of which it was the duty of the security service to uphold based on extensive archival research it suggests that mi5 operated without legal authority or exceeded the legal authority it did have
