African American Adolescent Spirituality and a Framework for Ministry in the Face of Injustice and Hopelessness

In Children 15e, students understand ways to apply content about child development to the real world and improve children's lives and to motivate students to think deeply about their own personal journey through life and better understand who they were as children and how their experiences and development have influenced who they are today.

The United States, a haven for various cultural and ethnic groups for many years, continues to benefit from the rich diversity among its people. The increasing cultural diversity of the U.S. population also has given rise to a more intense need for multicultural counseling. Culturally diverse clients may bring problems to counseling sessions related to a particular lifespan stage or to the frustrations and challenges often facing minority groups struggling to cope in a predominantly Anglo society. Counselors, perhaps not trained in multicultural intervention, may not recognize or may underestimate the powerful influence of a client's cultural background and developmental period. Thus, they may plan inappropriate counseling strategies.
