volume 2 an annotated commentary on the fifth dalai lama's words of mañjuśrī is the second volume of the dalai lama's outline of buddhist theory and practice having introduced buddhist ideas in the context of modern society in volume 1 the dalai lama turns here to a traditional presentation of the complete path to enlightenment from developing faith in the dharma to attaining the highest wisdom predominantly on political issues of tibet after 1951 the autobiography of the dalai lama who won the 1989 nobel peace prize divided into a series of distinct steps that will lead spiritual seekers toward enlightenment how to practice is a constant companion in the quest to practice morality meditation and wisdom

tenzin gyatso the 14th dalai lama is respected and loved not only by the people of tibet but also by millions of people around the world born into a peasant family the dalai lama was two years old when he was recognized as the reincarnation of his predecessor words of wisdom captures some of the dalai lama s most sage and sensible thoughts on topics that range from global peace to the meaning of life and compassion here the tibetan spiritual leader s words resonate with everyone from world leaders to the common man quotes from the dalai lama my religion is very simple my religion is kindness a learned person will become noble only when he or she has put into practice what has been learned instead of just mere words for the first time for general readers the dalai lama presents a comprehensive overview of the most important teaching of buddhism perhaps the main difference between buddhism and other religions is its understanding of our core identity the existence of the soul or self which is central in different ways to hinduism judaism christianity and islam is actually denied in buddhism even further belief in a self is seen as the main source of our difficulties in life yet a true understanding of this teaching does not lead one to a despairing cynical worldview with a sense that life has no meaning far from it a genuine understanding leads to authentic happiness for an individual and the greatest source of compassion for others in 2003 and in 2007 the dalai lama was invited to new york to give a series of talks on the essential buddhist view of selflessness this new book the result of those talks is now offered to help broaden awareness of this essential doctrine and its usefulness in living a more meaningful and happy life while the dalai lama offers a full presentation of his teachings on these key philosophical points for contemplation he also shows readers how to bring these teachings actively into their own lives with recommendations for a personal practice it is only by actually living these teachings that we allow them to bring about a genuine transformation in our perception of ourselves and our lives a profound mind offers important wisdom for those committed to bringing about change in the world through developing their own spiritual capabilities whether they are buddhists or not it is a set of four commentaries on the jatakamala garland of birth stories of buddha given by the dalai lama during the annual great prayer festival that follows tibetan new year in dharamsala keeping alive the tradition started by tsongkhapa in 1409 this work is probably the first of its kind for it is not just a story telling but brings new meaning to life when one reads through the book for the first time ever nobel peace prize laureate his holiness the dalai lama addresses children directly sharing lessons of peace and compassion told through stories of his own childhood one of today s most inspiring world leaders was once an ordinary child named lhamo thondup in a small village in tibet his mother was his first great teacher of compassion in everyday moments from his childhood young readers begin to see that important lessons are all around us and they too can grow to truly understand them with simple powerful text the dalai lama shares the universalist teachings of treating one another with compassion which bao luu illustrates beautifully in vibrant colour in an increasingly confusing world the seed of compassion offers guidance and encouragement on how we all might bring more kindness to our world one of the world s spiritual leaders and a renowned wilderness photographer combine their vision of tibet in this stunningly beautiful book essays by the fourteenth dalai lama appear with galen rowell s dramatic images in a moving presentation of the splendors of tibet s revered but threatened heritage when chinese communist troops invaded tibet in 1950 the author was fifteen years old and the spiritual and temporal ruler of a nation the size of western europe tenzin gyatso the fourteenth dalai lama of tibet appealed to the united nations for help and then fled across the himalaya in winter to a border town where he anxiously awaited political aid that never came like the mythical kingdom of shangri la tibet had sought isolation from the rest of the world diplomatic relations and foreign visitors had been shunned and few people in the west knew what cultural and natural treasures lay threatened there in the years that followed the dalai lama struggled to maintain peace in tibet and to protect his people s ways but in 1959 he was forced to flee to india where he remains today there he has established a government in exile in dharamsala that has endeavored to preserve tibetan culture while preparing for a peaceful return to a free tibet as the chinese cautiously opened select tibetan doors to visitors in the 1980s a sickening realization stole over the rest of the world tibet had been ravaged by the chinese occupation all but a dozen of tibet s six thousand monasteries had been destroyed much of the once bountiful wildlife had disappeared a sixth of the population had perished the picture seemed so bleak that many wondered whether there was anything worth saving in this wounded land the dalai lama s heartening answer and galen rowell s magnificent photographs leave no doubt that the mystery and enchantment of tibet though seriously endangered are still alive to tibetans the dalai lama is an incarnation of the buddha of compassion he has spent the last thirty years tirelessly advocating nonviolence and compassion to all living things as the answer to tibet s plight my religion is simple he says my religion is kindness my tibet movingly elaborates this message here the dalai lama offers his views on how world peace happiness and environmental responsibility are inextricably linked he explains the meaning of pilgrimage for tibetan buddhists and gives an engaging account of his early life in lhasa the capital of tibet in addition he reveals many sides to his nature compassion profound faith common sense generosity a playful sense of humor in personal reflections matched here to 108 photographs of the land he hasn't seen since 1959 together the breathtaking photographs which express rowell's own commitment to the natural world and the dalai lama's observations help preserve the enduring meaning of tibet's culture religion and natural heritage this practical little gem will guide and inspire buddhists and non buddhists alike volume 2 an annotated commentary on the fifth dalai lama's words of mañjuśrī is the second volume of the dalai lama's outline of buddhist theory and practice having introduced buddhist ideas in the context of modern society in volume 1 the dalai lama turns here to a traditional presentation of the complete path to enlightenment from developing faith in the dharma to attaining the highest wisdom
