the latest work from harold scheub one of the world s leading scholars of african folktales is the broadest collection yet assembled with tales from the entire continent of africa north to south it brings together mythic fantastic and coming of age tales some transcribed more than a hundred years ago others dating to modern day africa scheub includes the work of storytellers from major african language groups as well as many storytellers whose work is not often heard outside of africa this anthology offers a classroom ready collection that should appeal to any scholar of african literature and culture realizing that these tales are part of a dying art scheub writes for the inner ear in everyone bringing an oral tradition to life in written form the deep forest and broad savannah the campsites kraals and villages from this immense area south of the sahara desert the distinguished american folklorist roger d abrahams has selected ninety five tales that suggest both the diversity and the interconnectedness of the people who live there the storytellers weave imaginative myths of creation and tales of epic deeds chilling ghost stories and ribald tales of mischief and magic in the animal and human realms abrahams renders these stories in a narrative voice that reverberates with the rhythms of tribal song and dance and the emotional language of universal concerns with black and white drawings throughout part of the pantheon fairy tale and folklore library a collection of folktales each from a different region in africa discover how an african trickster god made it possible for people to tell stories in this brightly illustrated caldecott medal winning picture book long long ago there were no stories on earth for children to hear all stories belonged to nyame the sky god ananse the spider man wanted to buy some of these stories so he spun a web up to the sky to bargain with the sky god the price the sky god asked was osebo the leopard of the terrible teeth mmboro the hornet who stings like fire and mmoatia the fairy whom men never see can ananse capture these sly creatures and give the children of earth stories to tell africa south of the sahara is a land of wide ranging traditions and varying cultures despite the diversity and the lack of early written records the continent possesses a rich body of folk tales and legends that have been passed down through the strong custom of storytelling and which often share similar elements characters and ideas between peoples so this collection offers a hefty selection of legends and tales stories of the gods creation and origins trickster exploits animal fables and stories which entertain and edify from obatala creates mankind from the yoruba people of west africa to the girl of the early race who made stars from the san people of southern africa all collected in a gorgeous gold foiled and embossed hardback to treasure in this anthology of african folktales the author brings to bear his long experience as a graduate french teacher a private tutor and a professional translator in london he draws from the rich fountain of folktales mainly ghanaian and turns them into lovely jewels of art aimed at teaching some useful day to day lessons and understanding the thought and attitude of the primitive african should we therefore not endeavour to preserve some of these tales before they are swept away by the tide of western civilization animals are often the heroes or the villains of the tales their words are those of human beings their thought behaviour and even their lives are human the main character is the legendary kwaku ananse spider reputed for his craftiness wisdom greed and cheating propensities which invariably land him in serious trouble and disgrace sometimes one is tempted to sympathize with him but oftentimes one cannot but tell him serves you right above all it is a viable work of art meant to be read and appreciated by all who desire to enjoy literature
