after philosophy provides an excellent framework for understanding the most important strains of current philosophical work in north america england france and germany the selections from the work of fourteen contemporary philosophers not only display the multiplicity of approaches being pursued since the breakup of any consensus on what philosophy is but also help to clarify this proliferation of views and to spell out today's basic options for doing or not doing philosophy today with a general introduction delineating what is in dispute between the different parties to the end of philosophy debates brief introductions to the thought of each author and suggestions for further reading following each selection after philosophy is ideally suited for use in any course that includes an overview of the bewildering variety of contemporary approaches to philosophy the major sections and contributors are i the end of philosophy richard rorty jean françois lyotard michel foucault jacques derrida ii the transformation of philosophy systematic proposals donald davidson michael dummett hilary putnam karl otto apel jürgen habermas iii the transformation of philosophy hermeneutics narrative rhetoric hans georg gadamer paul ricoeur alasdair macIntyre hans blumenberg charles taylor kenneth baynes is currently doing postgraduate research at the university of frankfurt james bohman lectures in philosophy at boston university and thomas mccarthy is a professor of philosophy at northwestern university and the editor of the mit press series studies in contemporary german social thought this book examines the little understood end of art theses of hegel nietzsche and danto the end of art claim is often associated with the end of a certain standard of taste or skill however at a deeper level it relates to a transformation in how we philosophically understand our relation to the world hegel nietzsche and danto each strive philosophically to overcome cartesian dualism redrawing the traditional lines between mind and matter hegel sees the overcoming of the material in the ideal nietzsche levels the two worlds into one and danto divides the world into representing and non representing material these attempts to overcome dualism necessitate notions of the self that differ significantly from traditional accounts the redrawn boundaries show that art and philosophy grasp essential but different aspects of human existence neither perspective however fully grasps the duality the appearance of art's end occurs when one aspect is given priority for hegel and danto it is the essentialist lens of philosophy and in nietzsche's case the transformative power of artistic creativity thus the book makes the case that the end of art claim is avoided if a theory of art links the internal practice of artistic creation to all of art's historical forms this book offers a unique analysis of how ideas about science and technology in the public and scientific imaginations in particular about maths logic the gene the brain god and robots perpetuate the false reality that values and politics are separate from scientific knowledge and its applications these ideas are reinforced by cultural myths about free will and individualism restivo makes a compelling case for a synchronistic approach in the study of these notoriously hard cases arguing that their significance reaches far beyond the realms of science and technology and that their sociological and political ramifications are of paramount importance in our global society this innovative work deals with perennial problems in the social sciences philosophy and the history of science and religion and will be of special interest to professionals in these fields as well as scholars of science and technology studies emilio carlo corriero makes a radical intervention on the question of the anthropocene proposing that to rethink our relationship with nature also requires the rediscovery of philosophy understood as orientation this book contends that the environmental issue is a philosophical problem and outlines the theoretical contradictions that must first be overcome to effectively resolve the difficulties on a practical level at the moment in which the human being discovers himself as a natural force capable of annihilating himself and other species it is necessary to rethink human action in terms of cooperation with other entities a natural world to which the human being belongs with his acts and his thoughts unlike other human activities philosophy is capable of taking the right distance and orienting creativity ultimately assigning a new meaning to the earth philosophy as orientation draws on anglophone philosophical traditions and philosophers including dewey rorty wittgenstein williams cavell and putnam it puts these traditions and thinkers into a generative dialogue with continental philosophers in particular schelling and nietzsche providing a novel framework for understanding ecological crisis translated by vanessa di stefano this book will be essential reading not only for philosophers but also for those in environmental humanities and science studies drawing on the work of ludwig wittgenstein and novelists such as walker percy paul auster and graham greene a philosophical disease brings to the bioethical discussion larger philosophical questions about the sense and significance of human life carl elliot moves beyond the standard menu of bioethical issues to explore the relationship of illness to identity and of mental illness to spiritual illness he also examines the treatment of children born with ambiguous genitalia the claims of deaf culture and the morality of self sacrifice this book focuses on a different sensibility in bioethics how we use concepts and how they relate to our own particular social institutions there is no consensus in the social and cultural sciences on what theory is and that is as it should be a consensus would be outright dangerous for the diversity of intellectual life the perspectives represented in this volume show that theory can be understood as plot hope beholding doxa heritage a stalemate disappointment personal matter or family concept but even if theory can be defined in many ways it cannot be defined in any one way beyond disciplinary and epistemological differences theory has the steadfast characteristic of being what academics work with more than an epistemological matter the book's title question is an entry into the dynamics of academic practice the book consists of a multidisciplinary collection of essays that are tied together by a common effort to tell what theory is these essays are also paired as dialogues between senior and junior researchers from the same or allied disciplines to add a trans generational dimension to the book's multidisciplinary approach what is theory has been designed for upper division and graduate students in the social sciences and the humanities but it will also be of interest to anyone who has felt that the question of what theory is can be more easily asked than answered contents include why ask what theory is the history of the concept of theory history of ideas at the end of western dominance looking at theory in science theory has no big others in science and technology studies what social science theory is and what it is not theory as hope theory crisis and the necessity of theory the dilemmas of sociology theory as disappointment theory a personal matter theory a professional matter economic theory a critical realist perspective for theoretical pluralism in economic theory what is theory in political science for a new vocabulary of theory in political science theorizing the earth spatial theory as an interdisciplinary praxis this highly original lively and refreshing book is more than welcome it is needed the contributors insights passion and diversity fully restore the creative value of theorizing as a way to grasp understand and more importantly shape the world franck cochoy professor of sociology u of toulouse
