based on the author's own experiences as a cadet at the exclusive United States Military Academy at West Point. Battle Dress is the brutally honest tale of seventeen-year-old Andi Davis, who views her acceptance at West Point as a chance to escape her dysfunctional family and prove to herself that she has what it takes to survive 'the beast'—the insider terminology for basic training. But nothing could have prepared Andi for the rigors that follow—or for the inner strength that she will need to succeed as a woman in a nearly all-male society. Compelling and powerful but never militaristic this is a tale of triumph that won't fail to move readers

Young adults are actively looking for anything that connects them with the changes happening in their lives and the books discussed throughout literature for young adults have the potential to make that connection and motivate them to read it. It explores a great variety of works, genres, and formats, but it places special emphasis on contemporary works whose nontraditional themes, protagonists, and literary conventions make them well suited to young adult readers. It also looks at the ways in which contemporary readers access and share the works they're reading and it shows teachers ways to incorporate nontraditional ways of accessing and sharing books throughout their literature programs. In addition to traditional genre chapters, literature for young adults includes chapters on literary nonfiction, poetry, short stories, and drama, cover art, picture books, illustrated literature, and graphic novels, and film. It recognizes that while films can be used to complement print literature, they are also a literacy format in their own right and one that young adults are particularly familiar and comfortable with the book's discussion of literary language including traditional elements as well as metafictive terms enables readers to share in a literary conversation with their students and others when communicating about books it will help readers teach young adults the language they need to articulate their responses to the books they are reading
