In addition to the atlas with relief maps arranged by continent, region, and country, there's a brand new gazetteer of nations. An A to Z country by country directory, the gazetteer comes illustrated with flags, locator maps, charts, and diagrams, and includes text on the solar system, the Earth's structure, the environment, population, resources, economics, politics, and other topics. Bonus: a color map highlighting key hot spots of our world.

Fully revised and updated for 2000-2001, Philip's World Atlas and Gazetteer is specially designed for home reference use and to answer such questions as: Where is it? What is the capital city? What does the flag look like? What is the population? It is a highly informative atlas and reference book suitable for school projects, home reference, travel planning, and general knowledge. A key feature is the 48-page A to Z country by country gazetteer, which details the history, politics, geography, and economics of every nation, together with key information including population, area, capital city, languages, currency, and religions. This section has been fully updated to take into account all the latest political developments. Also featured are 48 pages of city maps and satellite imagery for some of the world's largest and most economically important cities. The 96 pages of physical and political maps have also been fully revised and updated, and provide balanced and comprehensive world coverage. The 35,000-name index includes geographical features as well as towns and cities. Also included is the 32-page 'World in Focus' section, which explains key world themes with the aid of colourful a-
