in Educating by Storytelling Katherine Dunlap Mrs. Cather presents an insightful exploration into the art of narrative as a pedagogical tool. The book deftly intertwines storytelling with educational theory, demonstrating how narratives can enhance understanding, retention, and moral reasoning in learners, particularly in early education. Cather's literary style blends earnest prose with practical examples reflecting the early 20th-century educational reforms that emphasized creativity and emotional engagement over rote memorization, positioning the work as both a theoretical and practical guide for educators of the time. Katherine Dunlap, Mrs. Cather, an influential educator and reformer, drew from her extensive teaching experience and a deep understanding of child psychology to craft this essential work. Her commitment to progressive education, marked by a focus on individual student needs and the cultivation of critical thinking, undoubtedly influenced her approach to storytelling as a vehicle for learning. Cather's own life, rooted in a rich tapestry of literature and teaching, shapes her perspectives and contributes to the depth of her arguments. I wholeheartedly recommend Educating by Storytelling to educators, parents, and anyone interested in the dynamic relationship between narrative and learning. Cather's timeless insights into the power of storytelling will inspire readers to reconsider their approaches to education, fostering environments that celebrate creativity and intellectual engagement.

The Pulitzer Prize-winning author presents a sterling selection of short fiction by Ursula K. Le Guin, Jeffrey Eugenides, and others. As soon as you complete a description of what a good story must be, a new example flutters through an open window, lands on your sleeve, and proves your description wrong. Writes Anthony Doerr about the task of selecting the best American short stories 2019: The year's best stories are a diverse, addictive group exploring everything from America's rich rural culture to its online teen culture to the fragile nature of the therapist-client relationship. This astonishing collection brings together the realistic and dystopic, humor and terror. For Doerr, with every new artist we simultaneously refine and expand our understanding of what the form can be. The best American short stories 2019 includes Nana Kwame Adjei-Brenyah, Jamel Brinkley, Jeffrey Eugenides, Ursula K. Le Guin, Manuel Muñoz, Sigrid Nunez, Said Sayrafiezadeh, Jim Shepherd, Weike Wang, and others.

The acclaimed author assembles a stellar collection of twenty stories that create their own worlds in twenty pages or less. USA Today Tom Perrotta explains in his introduction that all of these stories took me somewhere I didn't expect to go and jolted me into that state of heightened awareness and emotional receptivity that's one of the great rewards of reading good fiction. In Nathan Englander's "What We Talk About When We Talk About Anne Frank," a playful discussion between two married couples veers into darker territory, exposing a secret that might have been better left unspoken. Taiye Selasi writes a portrait of a motherless girl in Africa where her transition into womanhood may not be cause for celebration. Adam Wilson's entry gives us a window onto a movie set where the narrator aches for something cinematic to happen in his life. Roxane Gay's "North Country" introduces us to an unlikely couple who circle each other in a wary dance of approach and avoidance, an unexpected
