everyday life in contemporary rural china is characterized by an increased sense of moral challenge and uncertainty ordinary people often find themselves caught between the moral frameworks of capitalism maoism and the chinese tradition this ethnographic study of the village of zhongba in hubei province central china is an attempt to grasp the ethical reflexivity of everyday life in rural china drawing on descriptions of village life interspersed with targeted theoretical analyses the author examines how ordinary people construct their own senses of their lives and their futures in everyday activities building houses working celebrating marriages and funerals gambling and dealing with local government the villagers confront moral uncertainty they creatively harmonize public discourse and local practice and sometimes they resolve incoherence and unease through the use of irony in so doing they perform everyday ethics and re create transient moral communities at a time of massive social dislocation for people and governments around the world the onset of the covid 19 pandemic seemed to place the preservation of human life at odds with the pursuit of economic and social life yet this simple alternative belies the complexity of the entanglements the crisis has created and revealed not just between health and wealth but also around morality knowledge governance culture and everyday subsistence didier fassin and marion fourcade have assembled an eminent team of scholars from across the social sciences conducting research on six continents to reflect on the multiple ways the coronavirus has entered reshaped or exacerbated existing trends and structures in every part of the globe the contributors show how the disruptions caused by the pandemic have both hastened the rise of new social divisions and hardened old inequalities and dilemmas an indispensable volume pandemic exposures provides an illuminating analysis of this watershed moment and its possible aftermath
