first published in 2002 it is easy to see that we are living in a time of rapid and radical social change it is much less easy to grasp the fact that such change will inevitably affect the nature of those disciplines that both reflect our society and help to shape it yet this is nowhere more apparent than in the central field of what may in general terms be called literary studies new accents is intended as a positive response to the initiative offered by such a situation each volume in the series will seek to encourage rather than resist the process of change to stretch rather than reinforce the boundaries that currently define literature and its academic study nursing theory postmodernism post structuralism and foucault critiques mainstream american nursing theory and its use of post structural theory comparing and contrasting how postmodern and post structural ideas have been used fruitfully in nursing research and theorizing elsewhere in the late 1980s references to post structuralism and michel foucault started to appear in nursing journals since then hundreds of nursing publications have cited postmodernism and key post structural ideas such as power knowledge discourse and de centring the human subject in nursing theory postmodernism post structuralism and foucault olga petrovskaya argues that the application of these ideas is markedly different in american nursing theory scholarship compared to nursing theoretical scholarship generated outside the canon of unique nursing theory analysing relevant literature from the late 1980s through 2010s she demonstrates this difference arguing that american nursing theory calcified into a matrix of dogmas built on logical positivism wary of borrowed theory and loyal to a unique nursing science post structural ideas that fit the matrix such as criticism of medicine are sanctioned whereas ideas sceptical of humanistic agendas including those that challenge american nursing theory are rendered meaningless in contrast other nurse scholars from britain australia canada and what the author calls the american enclave group engaged with postmodern and post structural perspectives to enrich their research and invite readers to rethink nursing practice the book showcases examples of their intelligent creative theorizing arguing that american nursing theory enervated nursing theorizing petrovskaya calls for opening this matrix to theoretical and methodological creativity less rigid categories of scholarship and healthy self examination making the case that post structural ideas are vital for nurses ability to critically reflect on their discipline and profession this is a necessary read
