since its publication in 1996 many thousands of students have first encountered key issues in the philosophy of mind in the pages of rocco j gennaro s introductory work mind and brain a dialogue on the mind body problem in this new edition gennaro updates and expands the work to reflect current topics and discussions the dialogue provides a clear and compelling overview of the mind body problem suitable for both introductory students and those who have some background in the philosophy of mind topics include immortalitymaterialism descartes divisibility argument for substance dualismthe argument from introspection for substance dualismthe main objections to dualismthe interaction between mind and brainthe relation between brain damage and the prospect of an afterlifeparallelism and epiphenomenalismthe type token distinction within materialism and the problem of multiple realizability arguments against materialism and its ability to explain consciousnessproperty dualism and panpsychismthe epistemological problem of other mindsthe nature of inductive knowledgeevidence for animal consciousnesssthe problem of machine or robot mindsthe inverted spectrum argument also included are a brief introduction a list of study questions designed to enhance classroom discussion and serve as a resource for the development of paper topics a glossary and an index of key terms stimulating introduction to the most central and interesting issues in the philosophy of mind topics covered include dualism versus the various forms of materialism personal identity and survival and the problem of other minds in this lively introduction to the philosophy of mind important questions are tackled with clear explanations of all the theories of mind from the classic accounts of descartes and aquinas to the developments in computing and cognitive science this book presents a strong case for substance dualism and offers a comprehensive defense of the knowledge argument showing that materialism cannot accommodate or explain the hard problem of consciousness bringing together the discussion of reductionism and semantic vagueness in an original and illuminating way howard robinson argues that non fundamental levels of ontology are best treated by a conceptualist account rather than a realist one in addition to discussing the standard versions of physicalism he examines physicalist theories such as those of McDowell and Price and accounts of neutral monism and panpsychism from Strawson, McGinn, and Stoljar. He also explores previously unnoticed historical parallels between Frege and Aristotle and between Hume and Plotinus. His book will be a valuable resource for scholars and advanced students of philosophy of mind in particular those looking at consciousness dualism and the mind-body problem.
