why do we find artificial people fascinating drawing from a rich fictional and cinematic tradition anatomy of a robot explores the political and textual implications of our perennial projections of humanity onto figures such as robots androids cyborgs and automata in an engaging sophisticated and accessible presentation despina kakoudaki argues that in their narrative and cultural deployment artificial people demarcate what it means to be human they perform this function by offering us a non human version of ourselves as a site of investigation artificial people teach us that being human being a person or a self is a constant process and often a matter of legal philosophical and political struggle by analyzing a wide range of literary texts and films including episodes from twilight zone the fiction of philip k dick kazuo ishiguro s novel never let me go metropolis the golem frankenstein the terminator iron man blade runner and i robot and going back to alchemy and to aristotle s physics and de anima she tracks four foundational narrative elements in this centuries old discourse the fantasy of the artificial birth the fantasy of the mechanical body the tendency to represent artificial people as slaves and the interpretation of artificiality as an existential trope what unifies these investigations is the return of all four elements to the question of what constitutes the human this focused approach to the topic of the artificial constructed or mechanical person allows us to reconsider the creation of artificial life by focusing on their historical provenance and textual versatility kakoudaki elucidates artificial people s main cultural function which is the political and existential negotiation of what it means to be a person the memoirs of victor hugo by victor hugo this volume of memoirs has a double character historical and intimate the life of a period the xix century is bound up in the life of a man victor hugo as we follow the events set forth we get the impression they made upon the mind of the extraordinary man who recounts them and of all the personages he brings before us he himself is assuredly not the least interesting in portraits from the brushes of rembrandts there are always two portraits that of the model and that of the painter this is not a diary of events arranged in chronological order nor is it a continuous autobiography it is less and it is more or rather it is better than these it is a sort of haphazard chronique in which only striking incidents and occurrences are brought out and lengthy and wearisome details are avoided victor hugo s long and chequered life was filled with experiences of the most diverse character literature and politics the court and the street parliament and the theatre labour struggles disappointments exile and triumphs hence we get a series of pictures of infinite variety compiled from reports published in 1881 when france held special celebrations to honor victor hugo on his 80th birthday the 27th of december 1880 was a fête day at besançon the houses in the picturesque old town which dates further back than the roman conquest were hung with flags and the echoes of music came back from the surrounding hills on the banks of the river in the streets and in the squares a well dressed crowd was awaiting a ceremonial of honor one name was upon every lip that name was victor hugo the object in the following pages which are dedicated to victor hugo and his century for the century must ever be associated with his name to testify our admiration for a man whose every action commands our respect for the writer who has infused new life into the antiquated diction of our language for the poet whose verses purify while they fascinate the soul for the dramatist whose plays exhibit his sympathy with the unrenowned classes for the historian who has branded with ignominy the tyranny of oppressors for the satirist who has avenged the outrages of conscience for the orator who had defended every noble and righteous cause for the exile who has stood up undaunted to vindicate justice and finally for the master mind whose genius has shed a halo of glory over france victor hugo 1802 85 was a french poet novelist and playwright whose voluminous works provided the single greatest impetus to the romantic movement hugo was france s favorite son but more than that for years he had been her champion her conscience and her spirit the most abiding picture of hugo is that of the exile the guernsey tribunal dispensing judgement and truth across europe his patriarchal image enhanced by the beard he grew to protect his weak throat it is true that he had the vices of his virtues he was proud egocentric sometimes mean and often unfaithful but he was a great man recognized as such and loved as such by his countrymen
