as a master of his discipline the ancient roman architect vitruvius has been read widely for centuries this collection of essays by an international team of experts investigates his influence and reception in ideas artistic forms and building practices from antiquity to modern day the stories of influence told in these pages suggest that it is the unbridgeable gulf between the vitruvian text and surviving monuments that makes reading the ten books so endlessly compelling the contributors to this volume offer their own original readings which are organized into the five sections transmission translation reception practice and vitruvian topics citare in italian means both to cite and to quote citazione means both citation and quotation this volume with many discussions of annotations or marginal notes postils aims to tease out one of the principal threads of the overarching theme of what might be termed lost and found in translation with regard to early modern architecture citation of texts in relation to early modern architectural design treatise writing and theory has long been studied but mostly in ways which have never clearly distinguished between three important but different terms mindset citation and quotation this volume charts citation from filarete and ancient descriptions of near eastern architecture to difficulties in understanding vitruvius and lost and found in fra giocondo's vitruvius the investigation then broadens to tracing renaissance italian architectural books in colonial mexico and an examination of reverse ekphrasis and early modern architecture it then turns to twisted words and borrowed wisdom misleading citation in scamozzi's idea dell'architettura universale 1615 before heading east to discuss formats and functions of large scale calligraphy in late ming and qing period china and the reconstruction of architectural spaces turning to quotation the investigation begins with pirro ligorio the megala ship and the cortile del belvedere and invention imitation and reiteration the case of bramante s palazzo caprini and its progeny then follows quoting from memory centralized models and basilica systems in early counter reformation venice followed by borrominismo in eighteenth century lisbon and old form with new function villa emo amtshaus wörlitz and concludes with found and reshaped in translation architectural models between centre and periphery an important reading for anybody interested in early modern architecture a revelatory account of the complex and evolving relationship of renaissance architects to classical antiquity focusing on the work of architects such as brunelleschi bramante raphael and michelangelo this extensively illustrated volume explores how the understanding of the antique changed over the course of the renaissance david hemsoll reveals the ways in which significant differences in imitative strategy distinguished the period s leading architects from each other and argues for a more nuanced understanding of the widely accepted trope first articulated by giorgio vasari in the 16th century that renaissance architecture evolved through a linear step by step assimilation of antiquity offering an in depth examination of the complex sometimes contradictory and often contentious ways that renaissance architects approached the antique this meticulously researched study brings to life a cacophony of voices and opinions that have been lost in the simplified vasarian narrative and presents a fresh and comprehensive account of renaissance architecture in both florence and rome the two alphabetically arranged volumes cover all of the major artistic developments in italy from c 1300 to c 1600 a period that marks the renaissance of the humanistic spirit of classical antiquity all three periods of the renaissance are covered early high and late
