hollywood this collection explores a more porous set of relationships through the varied production distribution and exhibition associations between australia and the us to explore this idea the book investigates the influence that australia has had on us cinema through the exportation of its stars directors and other production personnel to hollywood while also charting the sustained influence of us cinema on australia over the last hundred years it takes two key points in time the 1920s and 1930s and the last twenty years to explore how particular patterns of localism nationalism colonialism transnationalism and globalisation have shaped its course over the last century the contributors re examine the concept and definition of australian cinema in regard to a range of local international and global practices and trends that blur neat categorisations of national cinema although this concentration on us production or influence is particularly acute in relation to developments such as the opening of international film studios in melbourne sydney adelaide and the gold coast over the last thirty years the book also examines a range of hollywood financed and or conceived films shot in australia since the 1920s nearly a decade ago a general review article on the evaluation of optical radiation hazards was published in applied optics sliney and freasier 1973 this article received many favorable comments but also prompted many inquiries regarding specific optical hazard problems from this it became evident that a monograph rather than a supplemental and expanded article was needed to fill this literature gap relating to laser and optical radiation hazards the present work is designed to fill that gap and is structured to permit either classroom or self study use much of the material in this book was developed in connection with short courses on laser safety and radiometry in which we have participated as well as from our previous articles in particular the sequence of chapters is based upon the experiences which we have had in lecturing in courses with different schedules one of the great difficulties in developing a text of this nature is that a broad multidisciplinary background must be included in order that the reader can comprehend all of the subject matter readily for this reason the material presented on anatomy and physiology is oriented toward the engineer or physical scientist while the review material on basic optical physics is intended more for the physician or life scientist
