with the rising number of tourists visiting bali every year there is a growing desire by travellers to know more about the country they are visiting

if you know where to look you can still discover and recognize what it was that intoxicating john coast fifty years ago sir david attenborough this book is one of the great classics about bali now with dozens of illustrations and photographs dancing out of bali is a fascinating personal account of a young englishman who settled in a small house in bali in the midst of the political turmoil that gripped post war indonesia there he immersed himself in balinese culture and made ambitious plans to bring a troupe of balinese dancers and musicians to europe and america the book relates john coast's daring and remarkable adventure that took him from revolution in indonesia to the footlights of london and broadway within a few weeks the troupe had captured the hearts of audiences here are photographs of bali and stories of the performers' magic island and of the enchanting dancers including the beautiful 12 year old ni gusti raka she became a star overnight and delighted audiences everywhere during the troupe's triumphant tour it is also a story of balinese culture and life in bali following the devastating japanese occupation of music and dancing in bali of many of the island's great performing dancers and musicians this book tells the story of bali the paradise island of the pacific its rulers and its people and their encounters with the western world balinese history tells a fascinating story for a thousand years the peculiar splendor of balinese hindu culture came very close to satisfying the social religious and artistic needs of the people the arrival of european visitors in the 1920s and 1930s soon made the island's magical charms known to the outside world and forever changed the real unspoiled bali this is the story about the vulnerability and durability of an ancient culture to the modern world there already exists a wealth of literature on balinese art and thought and the singularly beautiful balinese way of life which often seems to outsiders like a lavishly costumed pageant continuously and merrily played out against a superbly scenic tropical backdrop a new introduction by adrian vickers a professor of history at the university of sydney places the book into the context of the literature on bali and the impact that the western world and tourism are currently having on the island should a temple be seen as a work of art its carvers as artists its worshipers as art critics and patrons what is a temple and its art to the people who make and use it noted anthropologist hildred geertz attempts to answer these and other questions in this unique look at transformations in material culture and social relations over time in a village temple in bali throughout geertz offers insightful glimpses into what the statues structures and designs of pura dësa batuan convey to those who worship there deepening our understanding of how a village community evaluates workmanship and imagery following an introduction to the temple and villagers of batuan geertz explores the problematics of the western concept of art as a guiding framework in research she goes on to outline the many different kinds of work ideational as well as physical undertaken in connection with the temple and the social institutions that enable constrain and motivate their creation finally the art works themselves are presented set within the intricate sociocultural contexts of their making using the history of batuan as the main framework for discussing each piece geertz looks at the carvings from the perspective of their makers each generation occupying a different social situation she confronts concepts such as aesthetics representation sacredness and universality and the dilemmas they create in field research and ethnographic writing recent temple carvings from the tumultuous and complex period that followed the expulsion of the dutch and the increasing globalization and commercialization of balinese society demonstrate yet again that any anthropology of art must also be historical
