sheds new light on the presence and impact of continental european literary traditions in post napoleonic britain this annotated bibliography of nineteenth century british periodicals complete with a detailed subject index reveals how victorian commentaries on journalism shaped the discourse on the origins and contemporary character of the domestic imperial and foreign press drawn from a wide range of publications representing diverse political economic religious social and literary views this book contains over 4 500 entries and features extracts from over forty nineteenth century periodicals the articles cataloged offer a thorough and influential analysis of their journalistic milieu presenting statistics on sales and descriptions of advertising passing judgment on space allocations pinpointing different readerships and identifying individuals who engaged with the press either exclusively or occasionally most importantly the bibliography demonstrates that columnists routinely articulated ideas about the purpose of the press yet rarely recognized the illogic of prioritizing public good and private profit simultaneously thus highlighting implicitly a universal characteristic of journalism its fractious ambiguous conflicting behavior james mill s 1773 1836 role in the development of utilitarian thought in the nineteenth century has been overshadowed both by john stuart mill 1806 1873 and by jeremy bentham 1748 1832 of the three the elder mill is considered to be the least original and with the least important if any contributions to utilitarian theory true as this statement may be even those who have tried to challenge some of its aspects take the common portrayal of mill the rationalist the maker of syllogisms the geometrician as given this book does not studying james mill s background has surprising results with reference to influences outside the benthamite tradition as well as unexpected implications for his contributions to debates of his time the book focuses on his political ideas the ways in which he communicated them and the ways in which he formed them in an attempt to reveal a portrait of mill unencumbered from the legacy of thomas babington macaulay s 1800 1859 brilliant essay utilitarian logic and politics this volume contains 300 letters presented in full scholarly form with notes giving information about the texts and their provenance and also historical and bibliographic information includes its report 1896 19 the premise of chittick s study is that the national discourse found in british periodical literature of 1802 30 is crucial to an understanding of the literary language of the era
