the year following my diagnosis of breast cancer having a total mastectomy and chemotherapy i felt as if i was out at sea in the midst of a storm the faster i ran from the darkness and turmoil the closer it came i was frightened but learned to depend on the energy of the universe accepting my new body image was very difficult due to my insecurities low self esteem and self confidence i placed my marriage in jeporady i had to learn to trust in the positive energy of the universe to help me heal i needed to allow god and his angels to take me in their hands and carry me depending on the power of the universe established inner strength and courage to be a survivor we have a choice in how we react and respond to situations the lessons that life presents to us learning to let go of certain feeling and situations is difficult but it makes each day more peaceful and comfortable everything happens for a reason and it is up to us to learn from the lessons which are presented to us you can be a survivor when you accept that being a survivor is a state of mind which is dictated by you and not others i realized that guilt and shame are wasted energy and i was loved and can love others everyone's path in recovery and rediscovery will be different we cannot compare ourselves to others we are individuals with different childhood experiences different backgrounds personalities and with different support systems i hope that journey to new beginnings gives you a sense of comfort and hope each year will be another path of learning experiencing the joys of living and life enjoying the extraordinary in the ordinary why did the most read work in english literature go without cinematic adaptation for so long and why did five major film treatments appear between 1999 and 2008 this book explores the growing number of films based on the old english epic poem beowulf and furthers the ongoing consideration of filmic medievalism will the powerful influence of cinema affect the future reception of this great cultural linguistic and inherently visual work the films inevitably sway away from not only the story but also from the themes and concerns of the original to those more interesting to the filmmakers or responsive to the zeitgeist they measure the pulse of our inherited notions of heroism and teach us more about our own times than about the epic from which they derive an examination of free to play and mobile games that traces what is valued and what is marginalized in discussions of games free to play and mobile video games are an important and growing part of the video game industry and yet they are often disparaged by journalists designers and players and pronounced inferior to games with more traditional payment models in this book christopher paul shows that underlying the criticism is a bias against these games that stems more from who is making and playing them than how they are monetized free to play and mobile games appeal to a different kind of player many of whom are women and many of whom prefer different genres of games than multi level action oriented killing fests it's not a coincidence that some of the few free to play games that have been praised by games journalists are league of legends and world of tanks
