the first eleven essays in this collection treat the application of islamic law in qadi courts in the maghrib in the period between 1100 and 1500 ce based on preserved legal documents and the expert opinions of muslim jurists muftis the essays examine family law cases involving legal minority guardianship divorce inheritance bequests and endowments cumulatively the cases bear witness to the effectiveness and efficiency of the islamic judicial system in this period contrary to popular perceptions the cases demonstrate that muslim jurists placed a high value on reasoned thought and were sensitive to the manner in which law society and culture interacted with and shaped each other the final essay shows how the treatment of family endowments by colonial regimes in algeria and india at the end of the 19th and beginning of the 20th centuries shaped or misshaped the modern western scholarly understanding of islamic law this work will be very valuable for academic and public libraries supporting prelaw law social and cultural studies summing up highly recommended upper level undergraduates through professionals practitioners general readers choice there are two aspects of scholarship about the legal systems of our day that are especially salient one being for the first time there is a fair amount of genuine research on legal systems and two that this research is increasingly global as soon as you cross a jurisdictional line even if it separates countries that are very similar you enter a different legal system it cannot be assumed that any particular rule doctrine or practice is the same in any two jurisdictions regardless of how close these jurisdictions are in terms of history and tradition the encyclopedia of law and society is the largest comprehensive and international treatment of the law and society field with an advisory board of 62 members from 20 countries and six continents the three volumes of this state of the art resource represent interdisciplinary perspectives on law from sociology criminology cultural anthropology political science social psychology and economics by globalizing the encyclopedia s coverage american and international law and society will be better understood within its historical and comparative context key features includes more than 700 biographical entries that are historical comparative topical thematic and methodological presents the rich diversity of european latin american asian african and australasian developments for the first time in one place to reveal the truly holistic interdisciplinary virtues of law and society examines how and why legal systems grow and change how and why they respond or fail to respond to their environment how and why they impact the life of society and how and why the life of society impacts in turn these legal systems with borders more porous than ever before this encyclopedia reflects the paradoxical reality of modern life including legal life this valuable resource aims to present research along with the theories on which it is grounded fairly and comprehensively and is a must have for all academic libraries this is an open access book wael b hallaq a renowned sharia scholar has called sharia an episteme that suffered a structural death following the dawn of modernity in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries hallaq 2009 15 16 yet its resurgent is remarkable across a number of jurisdictional fault lines from muslim majority nations in middle east and southeast asia to muslim minority societies in western europe and north america across these jurisdictions the relationship between sharia and state law is central it includes sharia state encounters notably in the form of state islamic law in the field of family law which is often asserted as the core or last stronghold of sharia moors 2003 2 coulson 1969 115 6 and other substantive areas of law such as islamic economics and islamic philanthropy and also jinayah islamic penal law regardless of their differences in their own specific context these areas somehow manage to secure an importance place in the modern days it involves different loci of authority to interpret legislate and enforce sharia or parts of it that not only flourish but also being challenged around the muslim world equally important are implications of the increasingly unsettled authority of apparently agreed upon substance of sharia to contribute on these issues we would like to invite scholars from diverse discipline including law anthropology and islamic studies working in both muslim majority and muslim minority contexts to present their works in our international seminar on sharia law and muslim society isslams the relationship between secularism democracy religion and gender equality has been a complex one across western democracies and still remains contested when we turn to muslim countries the situation is even more multifaceted in the views of many western commentators the question of women rights is the litmus test for muslim societies in the age of democracy and liberalism especially since the arab awakening the issue is usually framed as the opposition between liberal advocates of secular democracy and religious opponents of women s full equality islam gender and democracy in comparative perspective critically re engages this too simple binary opposition by reframing the debate around islam and women s rights within a broader comparative literature bringing together leading scholars from a range of disciplines it examines the complex and contingent historical relationships between religion secularism democracy law and gender equality part one addresses the nexus of religion law gender and democracy through different disciplinary perspectives sociology anthropology political science law part two localizes the implementation of this nexus between law gender and democracy and provides contextualized responses to questions raised in part one the contributors explore the situation of muslim women s rights in minority conditions to shed light on the gender politics in the modernization of the nation and to ponder on the role of islam in gender inequality across different muslim countries
