academic paper from the year 2017 in the subject law comparative legal systems comparative law grade 1 0 university of pretoria language english abstract this study seeks to establish how the legal and institutional framework for positive complementarity may be effectively implemented it is argued that the existing legal and institutional framework in respect of the effective combatting of impunity is largely unsatisfactory the evolution of the principle of complementarity in the context of the rome statute is explored with emphasis on the theoretical constraints on the principle which in turn raise practical challenges the analysis provides a theoretical background to the conceptualisation of positive complementarity the study traces the evolution and development of the concept of positive complementarity examining its characteristic features and attributes and the possibilities and opportunities the concept presents for the effective combatting of impunity it examines the various scholarly arguments and propositions advanced to explain the concept of positive complementarity and analyses the attendant challenges and limitations it is noted that there is no fixed and universally acceptable definition of positive complementarity it is therefore argued that there is a need for the establishment of a coherent legal and institutional framework for positive complementarity in this light appropriate policy alternatives and considerations both domestically and internationally are considered on the international level limitations characterising the current institutional framework of the secretariat of the assembly of states parties asp secretariat are identified it is argued that a fundamental restructuring of the asp secretariat is essential and measures to restructure the asp secretariat in order to reinforce its effectiveness in fulfilling its mandate on positive complementarity are identified at the domestic level the various aspects of implementing legislation are discussed in conclusion the establishment of an independent office to address positive complementarity and revitalise the institutional framework within the legal structures of the asp secretariat is examined the study envisages that the proposed institutional framework for the asp secretariat if implemented would effectively support the national jurisdictions of state parties in their implementation of the concept of positive complementarity this study represents an unequivocally original contribution to knowledge and research
