this book is a pioneering work on panjabi legends and drama from gender perspective it examines women s construction in the context of patriarchal paradigms particularly in the context of love sexuality and marriage

this is a remarkable collection of information on indian women s writing written originally in english beginning from the 19th century it introduces 444 writers of poetry and fiction now it has been a part of common critical parlance to say that the indian english women s writing is in ascendance one aim of this bibliography is to illustrate this phenomenon and to emphasise the variety of writing writers included in the bibliography come from all over india and from the indian diaspora all over the world another aim of this bibliography is to make us aware of the constructed nature of writerhood a given writer s texts do not exist and circulate in a vacuum but in a context we can see that indian english women s writing is taking place but what we do not see is the critical establishment that is literary scholars and critics taking much note of it shvetambara jains have recited 9 special recitations for centuries for the first time these have been translated in english keenly analysed and studied with respect to historical background traditional beliefs and their scriptural basis in addition to the sacred recitations themselves concomitant mantras and yantras have been presented and examined the author vinod kapashi has painstakingly examined each chanda of each verse of the 9 stotras and has presented them with appropriate metrical analysis and historical perspectives he has engaged with traditional beliefs associated with the 9 sacred recitations the 9 recitations examined are as follows 1 namaskara mantra 2 uvasaggaharam stotra 3 santikaram stotra 4 tijayapahutta stotra 5 namiuna stotra 6 ajita shanti stavana 7 bhaktamara stotra 8 kalyana mandira stotra 9 brhat shanti stotra the book presents scriptural traditional as well as subaltern perspectives of Jainism in practise and should be of interest to those of the Jain faith scholars indologists and social historians all 9 recitations have been printed in devanagari and roman with diacritical marks there are bibliographies of primary and secondary sources as well as a glossary of terms this study of Jain recitations has been brilliantly edited by signe kirde we are proud to publish this book
