eurofound has conducted the european quality of life survey eqls in 2003 2007 and 2011

this report compares the results from the three waves to provide evidence of trends and change in the quality of life of europeans over a decade it also examines whether differences across eu member states have narrowed or remained stable one of its findings is that subjective well being has remained stable across the eu as whole but it also finds that financial strain in households has grown in the wake of the economic crisis the report proposes a more active approach to social protection as lower household income is a strong negative influence on quality of life and especially so in an economic downturn this volume gathers contributions from two disciplines which have much to gain from one another rhetoric and cognitive science as they both have much to say in the broad realm of argumentation studies this collection neither condemns the fallacious effects of specific argument schemes nor adds yet another layer to fallacy criticism but studies how argumentation and fallacies work hic et nunc what are the linguistic and cognitive mechanisms behind the performance of fallacious arguments how do rhetorical strategies work at the interface of cognition language science and society
