for i was not as i liked to believe the indulgent pleasure loving opposite of the cold rigid colonel i was the lie that empire tells itself when times are easy he the truth that empire tells when harsh winds blow thus the magistrate confesses in coetzee s 1980 novel waiting for the barbarians the present study looks closely into the unsettling effects coetzee s novels have on the reader and explores the interconnectedness between stylistic choices and moral insights its overall aim is to disclose the effectiveness of coetzee s narrative strategies to prompt the reader to engage in self questioning and radical revisions of personal and social moral assumptions this is an original and ground breaking study of coetzee s work dr tegla s insightful close readings highlight the ways in which coetzee fictionalizes a variety of moral dilemmas in particular she shows how he turns narrative into an instrument for moral discernment her narratological approach advances our understanding of his achievements and i can state without reservation that this book will be referred to as a landmark in coetzee criticism richard bradford research professor and senior distinguished research fellow university of ulster focusing on work by jorge luis borges samuel beckett and j m coetzee literary cynics explores the relationship between literature and cynicism to consider what happens when authors write themselves into their art against the rhetoric of authority rose takes as his starting point three moments of aesthetic crisis in the careers of these literary cynics borges s parables of the 1950s beckett s plays of the 1980s and coetzee s pedagogic novels of the 2000s in their transition to late style the works reflect their writers abiding concern with particular conceptions of rhetoric and aesthetic form literary cynics combines accounts of these late works with classic lesser known and archival texts by the three writers from coetzee s disgrace to beckett s letters as well as detailed analysis of cynicism both ancient and modern as a philosophical and political movement in sociolinguistic research on englishes world wide little has been published on the pragmatics of postcolonial varieties this interdisciplinary volume closes this research gap by providing integrative investigations of postcolonial discourses probing the interstices between linguistic methodologies and literary text analysis the literary texts under discussion are conceptualized as media both reflecting and creating reality so that they provide valuable insights into postcolonial discourse phenomena the contributions deal with the issue of how postcolonial englishes such as those spoken in india nigeria south africa and the caribbean have produced different pragmatic conventions in a complex interplay of culture specific and global linguistic practices they show the ways in which hybrid communicative situations based on ethnic cultural and linguistic diversity result in similarly hybrid social and communicative routines the central pragmatic paradigms discussed here include im politeness speech act conventions conversational maxims deixis humour code switching and mixing othering and linguistic exclusion stephen mulhall explores how j m coetzee s jesus trilogy engages with themes drawn from wittgenstein s later philosophy and how wittgenstein s and coetzee s thought relates to the critique of modernity elaborated in the work of nietzsche heidegger and sartre animal poetics and literary thinking explores and reorients our approach to animal thinking through the intersection between literary fiction continental philosophy and theory this book situates animals and animality as neither a corporeal entity nor a conceptual essence but as a scintillating impossibility that concurrently encourages and overturns our grasping impulse to know animals from their perspectives this framework corresponds with the milieu of literature as poesis which is uniquely connected to a refusal to know by exploring the writings of j m coetzee franz kafka mary shelly and kazuo ishiguro this volume encounters a template of animal thinking that seeks to uncover the singularity of animals through a sustained exploration of what remains radically unknowable about animality the vestiges of which have their presence in the world of literary fiction is the point of philosophy to transmit beliefs about the world or can it sometimes have higher ambitions in this bold study karen zumhagen yekplé makes a critical contribution to the resolute program of wittgenstein scholarship revealing his tractatus logico philosophicus as a complex mock theoretical puzzle designed to engage readers in the therapeutic self clarification wittgenstein saw as the true work of philosophy seen in this light wittgenstein resembles his modernist contemporaries more than might first appear like the literary innovators of his time wittgenstein believed in the productive power of difficulty in varieties of spiritual experience in the importance of age old questions about life s meaning and in the possibility of transfigurative shifts toward the right way of seeing the world in a series of absorbing chapters zumhagen yekplé shows how kafka woolf joyce and coetzee set their readers on a path toward a new way of being offering a new perspective on wittgenstein as philosophical modernist and on the lives and afterlives of his indirect teaching a different order of difficulty is a compelling addition to studies in both literature and philosophy
