between 1953 and 1978 the italian architect carlo scarpa produced an incredibly varied range of works that challenge our notions of what modern architecture might be foremost in that work was the need to reconcile a wholehearted embrace of the new with the longstanding traditions of local craft and of universal practice to create an architecture that would clearly express its own machine driven times without abandoning the psychic and sensual forces of place materiality and memory carlo scarpa architect intervening with history illustrates through abundant reproductions of scarpa s drawings the ways the architect created a dialogue with light space and architecture within the historic fabric of italian cities presenting these projects as they exist today the patient eye of contemporary photographer guido guidi deepens our understanding of this timely approach to architectural dialogue local communities have adapted for centuries to challenging surroundings resulting from unforeseen natural hazards vernacular architecture often reveals very intelligent responses attuned to the environment therefore the question that emerged was how did local populations prepare their dwellings to face frequent earthquakes it was to respond to this gap in knowledge that the seismic v research project was instigated and this interdisciplinary international publication was prepared the research revealed the existence of a local seismic culture in terms of reactive or preventive seismic resistant measures able to survive if properly maintained in areas with frequent earthquakes the fundamental contribution and aims of the publication were to enhance the disciplinary interest in vernacular architecture its contribution to risk mitigation in responding to natural hazards to encourage academic and scientific research collaboration among different disciplines to contribute to the improvement of vernacular dwellings which half of the world's population still inhabits nowadays fifty international researchers and experts presented case studies from latin america the mediterranean eastern and central asia and the himalayas region with reference to 20 countries i.e. algeria bolivia bhutan chile china egypt el salvador greece haiti italy japan mexico morocco nepal nicaragua peru romania taiwan turkey and a closer detailed analysis of portugal this publication brings together 43 contributions with new perspectives on seismic retrofitting techniques and relevant data addressing vernacular architecture an amazing source of knowledge and to this day home to 4 billion people this new series examines the role of details in contemporary architecture through the work of many emerging and established practitioners whose designs speak sensitively and energetically at the small scale the collection presents these details in photographs accompanied by working drawings sketches an introductory essay and captions that explain how the elements were conceived and built the details presented are often beautiful telltales of a designer's thoughts scaled to our eye made physical to the touch of our hand these crafted moments remind us that architecture can be a subtle and powerful force played out in some cases by evoking historical motifs in others by radical experimentation with new materials but more than a simple catalogue of ideas these details are ultimately shown as individual expressions of discovery gestures of delight or severity of beauty and clarity they are meaningful indications of the architect's presence more than all else willful signs that the true craft of design is alive and well materials examines a wide spectrum of architectural palettes from traditional materials used in innovative ways to the testing of new substances that alter the meaning of historic forms the images demonstrate the use of single materials throughout a space as well as the joining of multiple components in one place these details exemplify projects in which patterns textures color and surface qualities contribute ingeniously to the character of the architecture around them
