chronicles a girl's relationship with her mother from childhood to adulthood through her memories of her mother's hands filled with scripture verses poetry art photos and personal essays by popular authors my mother's hands creates a wonderful beautiful tribute to mothers nellie campobello a prominent mexican writer and novelist of the revolution played an important role in mexico's cultural renaissance in the 1920s and early 1930s along with such writers as rafael muñoz and gregorio lópez y fuentes and artists diego rivera orozco and others her two novellas cartucho first published in 1931 and my mother's hands first published as las manos de mamá in 1938 are autobiographical evocations of a childhood spent amidst the violence and turmoil of the revolution in Mexico. Campobello's memories of the revolution in the north of Mexico where Pancho Villa was a popular hero and a personal friend of her family show not only the stark realism of Cartucho but also the tender lyricism of my mother's hands. They are noteworthy too as a first person account of the female experience in the early years of the Mexican revolution and unique in their presentation of events from a child's perspective.

Iris Krasnow, mother, daughter, and best-selling journalist tackles the toughest relationship in the lives of many grown women: the mother-daughter bond. With women's life expectancy inching up past eighty, you may be embroiled with your mother well past the time your own hair turns white. The good news: living longer means more time to make peace. And this book shows you how. Drawing on her own experience with her colorful eighty-four-year-old mother and the collective wisdom of more than one hundred other adult daughters, Krasnow offers a fresh perspective on how to overcome the anger, guilt, and resentment that can destroy a family. The time to repair the bond is now. She reminds us: you can't kiss and make up at her funeral. The key is to let go of the fantasy mom and embrace the flesh and blood woman with all her flaws.

We are defined by our relationships: from seven-second meetings with strangers to lifelong bonds among family members. Relationships nurture us, challenge us, and teach us not to take ourselves so seriously. Seedlings' stories of relationships pay tribute to those connections: honoring the friends, neighbors, spouses, coworkers, siblings, and passing acquaintances who bring meaning to our lives. You'll meet Big Al, who has to enlist the help of an ex-lover when he's imprisoned by childproof locks; Catherine, the dental hygienist who eases her patients' anxiety through humor and flattery; three-year-old Casey, who proposes a noble sacrifice that will allow her to spend more time with her daddy. Some of the stories in this collection are fictionalized; others recount real-life happenings just as they occurred. All serve as entertaining reminders to treasure the people who share our journeys.

Dr. Donald Aultman brings together in one volume leaders from the Church of God to reveal the faith of our mothers. Stories of faithful women who valued, nourished, and trained their children, sometimes against all odds. These are women of virtue and godly character whose faith, patience, sacrifice, and humor forever shaped the sons and daughters now walking in their footsteps in a culture where Christianity is increasingly marginalized and children are pulled away from faith in a world that's cold, raw, and harsh in a society built on high achievement, self-serving goals, and shortsighted pursuits.
