herculaneum

in this study a new view is given on the city plan of ancient herculaneum by combining the evidence from the ancient writers the 19th century explorations and the analysis of the measurements of the excavated house blocks insulae furthermore it contains a detailed examination of the southernmost insulae iii and iv with surprising results first of all the allotment of these two insulae is made visible which gives way to a discussion about the division of land in pre roman campania furthermore the author distinguishes some new types of houses which differ from the already known atrium buildings this book examines ancient roman monuments made by the augustales civic groups composed primarily of wealthy ex slaves the role doors and windows play in shaping the life and structure of roman private dwellings has been underestimated they are structures that connect not only rooms but houses to the outside world and they relate to privacy security and light in domestic spaces this volume analyses these structures as an essential part of daily life this study presents an overview of the wooden furniture that has come to light since the rediscovery of herculaneum in the 18th century with an emphasis on the form function and the techniques employed the combination of comments in the excavation reports with the information derived from the surviving pieces of furniture and fittings made of other materials as well as indications for the presence of furniture in the architecture and decoration of the houses offers a representative idea of the role of wooden furniture in the interior arrangements of the houses at herculaneum this book examines how pompeian peristyle gardens were utilized to represent the socioeconomic status of roman homeowners introducing fresh perspectives on how these spaces were designed used and perceived pompeian peristyle gardens provides a novel understanding of how the domus was planned utilized and experienced through a critical examination of all pompeian peristyles not just by selecting a few well known examples this study critiques common scholarly assumptions of ancient domestic space such as the top down movement of ideas and the relationship between wealth and socio political power though these possibilities are not excluded in addition this book provides a welcome contribution to exploring the largely unexamined middle class an integral part of ancient roman society pompeian peristyle
