there are many books that highlight the need and importance of mission toward unreached people unfortunately few of them deal with the importance of understanding the real life of unreached people and how to analyze them this book identifies conceptual issues for the development of receptor oriented communication strategies among young educated urban hui yeu hui muslims in china s northwestern cities in order to achieve culturally relevant churches in those areas it is written to help not only those who are interested in the unreached but also those who are interested in muslim evangelism urban sociology biblical exegesis contextual church planting communication and mission strategy enoch jinsik kim utilizes a new approach virtual community mission for planting offline churches that integrates the use of local church driven internet community traditional media and offline task teams from a multi ethnic local church while the research focuses on the chinese muslim context the identification of the young urban and educated as a strategic group for mission can be applied in other muslim and non muslim contexts this research is useful to cross cultural communicators church planters and all those interested in interpersonal relationships perhaps no other group of people has been as much formed by biblical texts and tropes as african americans from literature and the arts to popular culture and everyday life the bible courses through black society and culture like blood through veins despite the enormous recent interest in african american religion relatively little attention has been paid to the diversity of ways in which african americans have utilized the bible african americans and the bible is the fruit of a four year collaborative research project directed by vincent l wimbush and funded by the lilly endowment it brings together scholars and experts sixty eight in all from a wide range of academic and artistic fields and disciplines including ethnography cultural history and biblical studies as well as art music film dance drama and literature the focus is on the interaction between the people known as african americans and that complex of visions rhetorics and ideologies known as the bible as such the book is less about the meaning s of the bible than about the bible and meaning s less about the world s of the bible than about how worlds and the bible interact in short about how a text constructs a people and a people constructs a text it is about a particular sociocultural formation but also about the dynamics that obtain in the interrelation between any group of people and sacred texts in general thus african americans and the bible provides an exemplum of sociocultural formation and a critical lens through which the process of sociocultural formation can be viewed this volume offers 37 original essays from leading scholars on the crucial topics issues methods and resources for studying and teaching religion and the arts this volume provides in clear and non technical language a systematic framework within which to understand and assess some of the important components in the current reformations in religious thinking in this volume walter brueggemann explores biblical texts from the story of the exodus to jesus teachings about peace and the reign of god he specifically addresses the witness of jesus and jesus proclamations about god s desired future more than in his other books clarifying a full biblical theology of peace and an understanding of what god has done in jesus and is doing in the church today there is a growing focus on the christian confession of god s completed kingdom the new heaven and the new earth this theme has time and again seduced people into elaborate fantasies that stimulated the senses how can we talk about it meaningfully raymond r hausoul relates systematic theology to biblical theology by comparing three theologians the catholic theologian karl rahner the protestant jurgen moltmann and the reformed gregory beale this leads to reflections on differences between matter space and time of the new heaven and new earth and those of our present reality the hope for renewal and resurrection is thus linked to the prophecies of the new jerusalem the tree of life and the resurrection body
