improve the situation the NGO's role was perceived positively by the population a lack of communication about the public private partnership and relatively weak community participation restricted the NGO's full potential and should be improved

This eclectic collection is a classic volume of beautiful tales and songs from South Carolina's Sea Island folklore first published in 1923. This wonderful folklore collection by Elsie Clews Parson features over 170 tales alongside many traditional riddles, proverbs, toasts, verses, and songs from the Sea Islands of South Carolina. This volume also includes a foreword by Jean Louis Brindamour. Some of the lyrical folktales featured in this volume include "Woman Cat Frog Escapes Cartload of Fish," "Tiger's Wife God and Fortune," "Witch Man and Rooster Racing a Ghost," "The Irishman and the Donkeys," and "The Three Sweethearts."

The COVID-19 pandemic left millions grieving their loved ones without the consolation of traditional ways of mourning. Patients were admitted to hospitals and never seen again. Social distancing often meant conventional funerals could not be held. Religious communities of all kinds were disrupted at the exact moment mourners turned to them for support. These unprecedented circumstances caused dramatic transformations of not only communal rituals but also how people make meaning after the losses of loved ones. Shattered Grief is an intimate portrait of how COVID-19 changed the ways Americans approach, understand, and mourn death. Based on extensive interviews incorporating a multitude of perspectives including funerary and medical professionals, religious leaders, grief counselors, death doulas, spirit mediums, community organizers, and those who lost loved ones, it provides a snapshot of how people renegotiated spiritual and religious traditions, worldviews, identities, and communities during the deadliest pandemic in a century. Through these diverse and powerful voices, Natasha L. Mikles tells the story of spiritual innovation, religious change, and the struggle to achieve personal and national self-understanding against the backdrop of mass casualties. Compelling and accessible, Shattered Grief is an essential book for a range of readers interested in how we make sense of death and dying.

This book evaluates the common criticism that Christianity in Asia is westernized. Since the 1980s, Asian evangelical theologians and missiologists argue that the intrusion of western theology is responsible for the western and hence alien expressions of Christianity in Asia. Yet in Singapore, the number of Christians has increased over the last few decades. Empirical evidence demonstrates that younger Chinese Singaporeans convert from Buddhism or Taoism to Christianity partly because they perceive it as a rational religion over Buddhism or Taoism, which are viewed as irrational or superstitious. Not only do many converts favor Christianity as a rational religion, but they do not regard Christianity as a western religion at the point of their conversion what accounts for those recent developments this study explores the processes of modernization and globalization as important factors impacting religious change in singapore personal contextual and structural elements actually influence one's religion of choice in facilitating effective mission one must qualify the use of the categories asian and western because religious and cultural boundaries overlap what matters most in missiology is discerning how the gospel of jesus christ engages the self understanding and lived realities of ethnic and religious others in diverse cultural settings
