considering questions from interdisciplinary perspectives covering both the crucial role played by images and models in our thinking and also the limitations which are inherent in these linguistic devices questions addressed include can this use of images and models generate a creative pluralism enabling us to think outside the disciplinary silos which are a feature of academic discourse can they enable fruitful synergistic interdisciplinary conversations this book will appeal to students and academics alike particularly those working in the fields of philosophy theology ethics and the history of science

pascal d bazzell brings the marginal ecclesiology of a filipino ecclesial community facing homelessness fech into contemporary ecclesiological conversation in order to deepen the ecumenical understanding of today s ecclesial reality he contributes relevant data to support a theory of an ecclesial oriented paradigm that fosters ecclesial communities within homeless populations there is an extensive dialogue occurring between ecclesiologies church planting theories or urban missions and the urban poor yet the situation with the homeless population is almost entirely overlooked the majority of urban mission textbooks do not acknowledge an ecclesial oriented state of being and suggest that the street level environment is a place where no discipleship can occur and no church should exist by presenting the fech s case study bazzell emphasizes that it is possible to live on the streets and to grow in the faith of god as an ecclesial community to be able to describe the fech s ecclesial narrative bazzell develops a local ecclesiological methodology that aims to bridge the gap between more traditional systematic and theoretical ideal ecclesiology and practical oriented ecclesiology e g congregational studies in order to hold together theological and social understandings of the church in its local reality he articulates a theological framework for the fech to reflect on who they are the essence of identity studies who they are in relationship to god the essence of theological studies and what that means for believers in that community as they relate to god and to each other in ways that are true to who they are and to who god intends them to be the essence of ecclesial studies the research provides a seldom heard empirical tour into the fech s social world and communal identity the theological findings from the fech s hermeneutical work on the gospel of mark reveal an understanding of church being developed as gathering around jesus that creates a space for god s presence to be embodied in their ordinary relationships and activities and to invite others to participate in that gathering moreover it addresses ecclesial issues of the supernatural world honor shame values and further develop the neglected image of the familia dei in classical ecclesiology that encapsulates well the fech s nature mission and place a diverse cast of contributors explore the wide reaching practice and theology of mission during this era rather than a century bereft of cross cultural outreach we find both reformers and roman catholics preaching the gospel and establishing the church in all the world this overlooked yet rich history reveals themes and insights relevant to the practice of mission today book cover in commonwealth and covenant marcia pally argues that in order to address current socioeconomic problems we need not more economic formulas but rather a better understanding of how the world is set up an ontology of how we and the world work without this good proposals that arise lack political will and go unimplemented pally describes our basic setup as separability amid situatedness or distinction amid relation though we are all unique individuals we become our singular selves through our relations and responsibilities to the people and environments around us pally argues that our culture s overemphasis on separability individualism run amok results in greed adversarial and deceitful political discourse and chicanery resource grabbing broken relationships and anomie maintaining that separability and situatedness can and must be considered together in public policy pally draws on intellectual history philosophy and especially historic christian and jewish theologies of relationality to construct a new framework for addressing present economic and political ills many christians still do not understand the concept of god they think that just by being a christian they are guaranteed salvation and will go to heaven because of this thinking they feel free to sin and live in hypocrisy moreover many christians go to church but do not understand who god is why should they worship god is the god of christians the same as the gods of other religions why should they go to church additionally there are many dilemmas in life especially those related to christian ethics such as is smoking a sin is drinking alcohol allowed and many more questions that are difficult to answer this book presents answers from a biblical perspective so that ordinary christians can easily understand the truth for young people this book is a must have and an important resource may this book be a blessing to many people soli deo gloria the law of freedom justice and mercy in the practice of law examines the legal and theological roots of the concept of equity and the implications that the diminishment of equity as a legal concept has for the moral dilemmas faced by the practicing lawyer meditating on the book of micah the book argues that the christian duty asks for both strict justice and gracious mercy with the prophet s third value humility essential for both the individual lawyer and the legal system as a whole to balance strict justice and mercy pastors regularly face concrete ethical questions and they too pursue a moral life in the busyness of ministry it can be tempting to think pragmatically or derive one s ethics from the latest cultural concerns but standard approaches to ethics whether deontological utilitarian or virtue ethical all fall short of being distinctly christian ethics ought to be grounded in the gospel and in our triune god in pastoral ethics w ross hastings provides pastors with an evangelical and trinitarian framework for moral formation and ethical discernment for hastings ethics must be reclaimed as theological theology without ethics becomes gnosticism ethics without theology leads to legalism and death christian ethics participates in god s life and god s work this communion with god leads to obedience to his commands as summed up in the decalogue and over several chapters hastings provides a rich exposition for pastoral formation pastors find their identity in god and this inspires right thinking and acting with regard to authority life and death sexuality work and rest speech and desires an approach to ethics that prompts faith hope and love pastoral ethics is an essential guide for christians in all ministry contexts in some of the church s history scripture has been pitted against tradition and vice versa prominent new testament scholar edith humphrey who understands the issue from both protestant and catholic orthodox perspectives revisits this perennial point of tension she demonstrates that the bible itself reveals the importance of tradition exploring how the gospels acts and the epistles show jesus and the apostles claiming the authority of tradition as god s word both written and spoken arguing that scripture and tradition are not in opposition but are necessarily and inextricably intertwined humphrey defends tradition as god s gift to the church she also works to dismantle rigid views of sola scriptura while holding a high view of scripture s authority here is a lay theology from the gut and not simply from the head and from the street and not only from the library here god is wrestled with and not simply known in quiet certainty here the pain of life is faced in the hope of healing and transformation who should read the bible what is the biblical word how is scripture to be interpreted how is it to be prayed and lived how does scripture call forth the church s entire life and mission in october 2008 the synod on the word of god in the life and mission of the church took place in rome during the synod the bishops addressed these questions on the significance of the word in the life and mission of the church beginning with a helpful explanation of the synod process james chukwuma okoye cssp follows the synod in historical progression highlighting important topics and issues along the way and concluding with an exposition of the post synodal apostolic exhortation verbum domini which benedict xvi signed on september 30 2010 okoye emphasizes that the synod on the word of god was not just about scripture s function in the pastoral life of the church but it was also about tradition and god s continuing self disclosure in history and in the religions and cultures of humankind
