essays on a range of photographic topics by the recently appointed joel and anne ehrenkranz chief curator of photography at moma since 1839 offers a selection of essays by the renowned photography historian clément chéroux appointed joel and anne ehrenkranz chief curator of photography at the museum of modern art moma in new york in 2020 chéroux takes on a variety of topics from the history of vernacular photography to the influence of documentary photography on surrealism these texts newly translated into english and published together in one volume for the first time reflect the breadth of chéroux's thinking the rigor of his approach and his endless curiosity about photographs in this strikingly designed and generously illustrated volume chéroux presents unique case studies and untold stories he discusses ways of sharing images from the nineteenth century to the digital age considers the utopian ideals of early photography and analyzes the duality of amateur photography among other things he describes the appeal of photographs snapped from a speeding train and explains historical value of first generation prints of photographs through an analysis of key photographs taken on 9/11. Chéroux shows that the same six images were seen again and again in the press. Widely ranging, erudite and engaging, these essays present Chéroux's innovative investigations of the histories of photography.

Examines photo essays from Weimar Germany's many social crises, traces photography's emergence as a new language that German photographers used to intervene in modernity's key political and philosophical debates, changing notions of nature and culture, national and personal identity, and the viability of parliamentary democracy.

Successful travel photographers have to wear more hats than perhaps any other photographic genre. In a single travel photo essay, they are at times architectural photographers, food photographers, music photographers, car photographers. The list encompassing every possible type of photography. The travel photo essay teaches the reader the necessary techniques to create cohesive professional travel stories using images that go far beyond "I was here" photographs. From the establishing shots to the equipment list, this book discusses the techniques and concepts necessary to create professional-looking images in various genres, including portrait photography, landscape photography, wildlife photography, food photography, documentary photography, sports photography, and more. Covering issues such as lighting, writing, workflow, and the travel photography market, award-winning photographer and writer Mark Edward Harris explains how to marry photos with words, telling a cohesive story through a series of photographs.

David Levi Strauss is a writer whose visual and intellectual sensibilities are both acute and expansive. His trenchant writings on photography and photographers have been collected for this volume from a broad range of magazines, including Aperture, Artforum, and The Nation. In Between the Eyes: Essays on Photography and Politics, Strauss tackles subjects as diverse as photography and propaganda, the imagery of dreams, Sebastião Salgado's epic social documents, and the deeply personal photographic revelations of Francesca Woodman. The timely issue of photographic legitimacy is addressed in the essay "Photography and Belief," and in the highest degree of illusion, Strauss discusses the media frenzy surrounding the events of September 11. As our world is shaped more and more by images and their slipperiness, what he calls a media pandemonium in its root meaning of the place of all howling demons, we need a mind and voice like Levi Strauss to bring clarity to our vision.
