this book builds on the insights of g nther bachmann former secretary general for the german sustainability council who spent almost 20 years advising the german government on sustainability policy the book discusses his experiences in negotiating stakeholder statements at the highest national levels bachmann takes the reader behind the scenes of german sustainable policy and practice whilst also comparing germany with other national approaches he tells the story of political events from his insider perspective unfolding the narrative of sustainable development goals and how activists in their respective countries could and should relate to it furthermore he suggests new lines of vision through the tangle of conference fatigue and buzzwords the book argues that environmentalists often display entrenched attitudes that too often downplay success the rhetoric of crisis and doom if overstretched and reduced to alarm paralyses action and innovation bachmann who on the contrary argues positively and concretely shows unusual but significant signs of hope and confidence in action and how these can be made effective in the politics of sustainable development this book will be of global relevance to sustainability professionals and policy makers and will advise them on how to successfully move ahead with sustainability policies this collection presents educational assessment research from latin america adding to a relatively small but growing body of research considering educational assessment and evaluation issues in this large region the predominance of chile reflects its early highly centralized education system and the fact that it adopted national testing before other latin american countries it was also an early participant in international assessment programmes other countries have followed the trend of implementing national testing and to a lesser extent participating in international surveys the complementary development of technical expertise in quantitative research methods has enabled extensive analysis of the large data sets generated by these testing and assessment programmes taken together the evidence reported provides a means not only of reviewing educational quality issues in latin america but also of facilitating comparisons that allow the context specificity of equivalent research conducted in western developed countries to be considered the chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of assessment in education principles policy and practice
