until now apache history has been fragmented offered in books dealing with specific bands or groups the mescaleros mimbrenos chiricahuas and the more distant kiowa apaches lipans and jicarillas in this book volume 149 of the civilization of the american indian series donald e worcester provides a synthesis of the total historical experience of the apaches from the post conquest era of the spaniards to the present day in clear fluent prose he provides a panoramic coverage with the main focus on the nineteenth century the era of the apaches sometimes splintered but always determined resistance to the white intruders they were never a numerous tribe but in their daring and skill as commando like raiders they well deserved the name eagles of the southwest the book highlights the many defensive stands and the brilliant assaults the apaches made on their enemies the only effective strategy against them was divide and conquer and the spaniards and after them the anglo americans employed it extensively using renegade indians as scouts feeding traveling bands and trading with them at their presidios and missions when the mexican revolution disrupted this pattern in 1810 the apaches again turned to raiding and the apache wars that erupted with the arrival of the anglo americans constitute some of the most sensational chapters in america s military annals not until the united states policy of extermination had succeeded in decimating them was the southwest secure for white settlement the author describes the apaches life today on the arizona and new mexico reservations where they manage to preserve some of the traditional ceremonies while trying to provide livelihoods for all their people tragically far removed from the soaring eagles of yesterday the apaches still have a proud history in their struggles against overwhelming odds of numbers and weaponry worcester here recreates that history in all its color and drama ingstad traveled to canada where he lived as a trapper for four years with the chipewyan indians the chipewyans told him tales about people from their tribe who traveled south never to return he decided to go south to find the descendants of his chipewyan friends and determine if they had similar stories in 1936 ingstad arrived in the white mountains and worked as a cowboy with the apaches his hunch about the apaches northern origins was confirmed by their stories but the elders also told him about another group of apaches who had fled from the reservation and were living in the sierra madres in mexico ingstad launched an expedition on horseback to find these lost people hoping to record more tales of their possible northern origin but also to document traditions and knowledge that might have been lost among the apaches living on the reservation
