examines the many facets and puzzles of our moon including its phases and eclipses its early discoveries and modern exploration and its possible origins and future prospects how well do you know our closest neighbour featured on bbc radio 4 saturday live and bbc breakfast the moon has fascinated humankind since the beginning of history but far from being just a big rock out in space the moon has a phenomenal power over the earth with its ability to create great waves dictate the length of the day and summon the seasons it is a key player in the story of our planet in this unique celebration of the moon lunar expert and space scientist dr maggie aderin pocock takes readers on a journey through the moon's past, present and future she uncovers the way the moon has captured our imaginations, contemplates how it was formed and uncovers why we need the moon to protect our fragile earth. Drawing on the latest scientific research she then looks forward to what might be to come: will we return to the moon or will it become a launch pad to go into the great unknown filled with fascinating facts and anecdotes and written with warmth and passion the book of the moon is for scientists and stargazers alike you'll never look at our closest neighbour in the same way again.

Exploring the mystery, wisdom and power of the dark phase of the moon's cycle a lunar based model for moving through the dark times in our lives with understanding, consciousness and faith in renewal the moon's dark phase has traditionally been a time of fear and superstition a time associated with death and isolation the mythical embodiment of these fears is the dark goddess known around the world by many names: Lilith, Kali, Hecate and Morgana. The archetypal dark goddess represents death, sexuality and the unconscious the little understood, often feared aspects of life. Demetra George combines psychological, mythical and spiritual perspective on the shadowy feminine symbolism of the dark moon to reclaim the darkness from oppressive fear based images. George offers rites for rebirth and transformation that teach us to tap into the power of our dark times maximizing the potential for renewal inherent in our inevitable periods of loss, depression and anger.

A beautiful showcase of hand drawn geological charts of the moon combined with a retelling of the symbolic and mythical associations of earth's satellite. President Kennedy's rousing 'We will go to the moon' speech on 25 May 1961 set Project Apollo in motion and spurred on scientists at the US Geological Survey in their efforts to carry out geologic mapping of the moon. Over the next 11 years a team of 22 created 44 superb charts, one for each named quadrangle on the earthside of the moon. In lunar for the first time you can see every beautifully hand drawn and coloured chart accompanied by expert analysis and interpretation by Smithsonian Science Curator Matthew Shindell. Long a source of wonder, fascination and symbolic significance the moon was crucial to prehistoric man in their creation of a calendar it played a key role in ancient creator myths and astrology and it has often been associated with madness. Every mythical and cultural association of the moon throughout history is explored in this sumptuous volume culminating in the 1969 moon landing which heralded the beginning of a whole new scientific journey.
