in the annals of military history only rarely has someone earned the distinction of rising from the rank of private to full general born january 5 1887 courtney hodes attended west point during the early 1900s after failing mathematics at west point he returned home for three months before enlisting in the army at fort mcpherson georgia from this somewhat rocky start hodes military career spanned the globe covering forty four years and two world wars correcting an historical oversight this biography tells the story of one of america s most notable military men an unpretentious private man hodes was credited with capturing more ground than any other american in history this work follows hodes from his formative years in perry georgia through his extraordinary military career which included service in the philippines mexico europe and japan special attention is given to hodes role during world war ii campaigns where he commanded the first army and was chosen by douglas macarthur to lead the attack against japan emphasis is also placed on the ways in which hodes career was intertwined with other military men of the time including omar bradley and george patton a man who was essentially hodes mirror image personally and militarily the purpose of this study is to collect all available facts pertinent to the remagen bridgehead operation to collate these data in cases of conflicting reports and to present the processed material in such a form that it may be efficiently utilized by an instructor in preparing a period of instruction the data on which this study is based was obtained from interviews with personnel who took part in the operation and from after action reports listed in the bibliography this is an armored school publication and is not the official department of the army history of the remagen operation it must be remembered that the remagen operation is an example of a rapid and successful exploitation of an unexpected fortune of war as such the inevitable confusion of facts and the normal fog of war are more prevalent than usual the absence of specific detailed prior plans the frequent changes of command and the initial lack of an integrated force all make the details of the operation most difficult to evaluate and the motives of some decisions rather obscure the operation started as a two battalion action and grew into a four division operation within a week units were initially employed in the bridgehead as they became available where they were most needed a line of action that frequently broke up regiments in cases of conflicting accounts of the action the authors of this study have checked each action and each time of action included in the study and have evaluated the various reports in order to arrive at the most probable conclusions
