since the early nineties the reception of vilém flusser was mainly focused on his media theory if on the one hand this focus allowed to launch the first development in the study of flusser's ideas on the other hand it ended to conceal other relevant topics and aspects of his thought even if his work appears fragmented into several areas there is a source that produces this variety of topics and methodologies a deep connection between exile creativity and thought flusser's philosophy is thinking in exile between nations and national identities across different languages between and outside defined disciplines and scientific fields the entire flusser's oeuvre becomes an expression of a collapsed ground also revealing an unexpected sense of freedom both existential and philosophical his path of thinking exhibits radical unfaithfulness towards homeness and reassuring boundaries both spatial and epistemological both literal and metaphorical the purpose of this issue of azimuth is to map this intersection in flusser's thought by taking into account the complexity of his multifaceted thinking and the overlapping of different fields
