this volume provides a unique primary source on the history and philosophy of mathematics and the exact sciences in the mediaeval arab world the second of five comprehensive volumes this book offers a detailed exploration of arabic mathematics in the eleventh century as embodied in the legacy of the celebrated polymath al hasan ibn al haytham extensive analyses and annotations from the eminent scholar roshdi rashed support a number of key arabic texts from ibn al haytham s treatises in infinitesimal mathematics translated here into english for the first time rashed shows how ibn al haytham s works demonstrate a remarkable mathematical competence in mathematical subjects like the quadrature of the circle and of lunes the calculation of the volumes of paraboloids the problem of isoperimetric plane figures and solid figures with equal surface areas along with the extraction of square and cubic roots the present text is complemented by the first volume of a history of arabic sciences and mathematics which focused on founding figures and commentators in the ninth and tenth centuries archimedean apollonian mathematical school of baghdad this constellation of works illustrates the historical and epistemological development of infinitesimal mathematics as it became clearly articulated in the oeuvre of ibn al haytham contributing to a more informed and balanced understanding of the internal currents of the history of mathematics and the exact sciences in islam and of its adaptive interpretation and assimilation in the european context this fundamental text will appeal to historians of ideas epistemologists and mathematicians at the most advanced levels of research through analysing ancient and classical arabic literature including the qur an from within the arabic literary tradition this book provides an original interpretation of poetics and of other important aspects of arab culture ancient arabic literature is a realm of poetry prose literary forms emerged rather late and even then remained in the shadow of poetic creative efforts traditionally this literature has been viewed through a philologist s lens and has often been represented as materialistic in the sense that its poetry lacked imagination as a result arabic poetry was often evaluated negatively in relation to other poetic traditions the poetics of ancient and classical arabic literature argues that old arabic literature is remarkably coherent in poetical terms and has its own individuality and that claims of its materialism arise from a failure to grasp the poetic principles of the arabic tradition analysing the qur an which is known for confronting the poetry of the time this book reveals that post qur anic literature came to be defined against it thus the constitution and interpretation of arabic literature imposed itself as a particular exegesis of the sacred text disputing traditional interpretations by arguing that arabic literature can only be assessed from within and not through comparison with other literary traditions this book is of interest to students and scholars of islamic studies arabic studies and literary studies in the inimitable qurān some problems in english translations of the qurān with reference to rhetorical features khalid yahya blankinship examines certain arabic rhetorical features of the qurān as represented in seven english translations the author addresses the intersection of two important topics in qurānic studies the critique of the available english translations and the role of rhetoric in the interpretation of the qurān he identifies a number of figures characteristic of qurānic style which represent some of the chief stumbling blocks for readers who are used to english in attempting to understand interpret and appreciate the text the book should be useful to all those interested in rhetorical and translation studies and theory as well as islamic studies
