this book provides a methodological background for the development of legal knowledge systems it describes a composite method that comprises three existing methods commonkads the de facto standard for the development of knowledge systems van kralingen s theory of frame based conceptual models of statute law van kralingen s book frame based conceptual models of statute law is also published in the computer law series kant a method to determine the primitive entities and their relations in legal domains the composite method reduces the dependency between a knowledge specification and the purpose for which the specification is created this dependency is often perceived to be a problem since it can prevent the specification from being reused for other purposes this is known as the interaction problem the composite method allows knowledge specifications to be reused for other purposes the author applies the method to the dutch unemployment benefits act and shows that both an assessment and a planning task can be performed using the same knowledge specification
