one of the world's first truly international humanitarian organizations the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA) was championed as a beacon of postwar philanthropy that sought to rehabilitate as well as provide relief this edited volume offers the first comprehensive study of the UNRRA and seeks to identify the key successes limitations and enduring challenges it faced in the postwar period tracing the rehabilitation of displaced children in the camps of Germany and Austria to mountainous Greek villages without access to food or medical supplies and refugees in postwar China it will assess the immediate impact of UNRRA rehabilitation policy on postwar reconstruction international development and broader humanitarian processes through these international case studies it will explore the ways in which a fundamental inability to define rehabilitation made it seemingly impossible to meet its objectives as a predecessor to modern specialised agencies such as unesco who and unicef studying the unrra is crucial for our understanding of the history of the united nations the circumstances that shaped its future policies and the foundations of modern humanitarianism
