this edited collection offers an exploration of american literature in the age of trumpism understood as an ongoing sociopolitical and affective reality by bringing together analyses of some of the ways in which american writers have responded to the derealization of political culture in the united states and the experience of a new american reality after 2016 the volume s premise is that the disruptions and dislocations that were so exacerbated by the political ascendancy of trump and his spectacle laden presidency have unsettled core assumptions about american reality and the possibilities of representation the blurring of the relationship between fact and fiction bolstered by the discourses of fake news and alternative facts has not only drawn attention to the shattering of any notion of shared reality but has also forced a reexamination of the purpose and value of literature especially when considering its troubled relation to the representation of america the authors in this collection respond to the invitation to reassess the workings of fiction and critique in an age of trumpism by considering some of the most recent literary responses to the new american realities including works by colson whitehead ben winters claudia rankine gary shteyngart jennifer egan and steve erickson to name but a few some of which were composed in the run up to the 2016 election but were able to accurately and incisively imagine the world to come the third revised and enlarged edition contains discussions of british irish and american literary works up to 2020 focussing on outstanding writings in prose poetry drama and non fiction the book covers the time from the anglo saxon period to the 21st century the feature that makes this literary history unique among its rivals is the coverage of television web series as a particular form of postmodern drama the chapters on recent drama now contain detailed analyses of the development of tv and web series from britain ireland and america with extensive discussions of those series now considered classics in addition there are several major innovative features to begin with each century is introduced by a survey of the socio political and cultural backgrounds in which the literary works are embedded furthermore extensive visual material more than 160 engravings cartoons and paintings has been integrated this visual aspect as well as the introductory sections on art for each century give the reader an excellent idea of the symbiosis between visual and literary representations further innovative aspects include discussions of non fictional works from literary criticism and theory travel writing historiography and the social sciences analyses of such popular genres as crime fiction science fiction fantasy the western horror fiction and children s literature footnotes explaining technical and historical terms and events a detailed glossary of literary terms chronological tables for british anglo irish and american literatures an updated cut off date 2020 extensive bibliography containing suggestions for further reading in recent years cognitive and affective science have become increasingly important for interpretation and explanation in the social sciences and humanities however little of this work has addressed american literature and virtually none has treated national identity formation in influential works since the civil war in this book hogan develops his earlier cognitive and affective analyses of national identity further exploring the ways in which such identity is integrated with cross culturally recurring patterns in story structure hogan examines how authors imagined american identity understood as universal democratic egalitarianism in the face of the nation s clear and often brutal inequalities of race sex and sexuality exploring the complex and often ambivalent treatment of american identity in works by charlotte perkins gilman eugene o neill lillian hellman djuna barnes amiri baraka margaret atwood n scott momaday spike lee leslie marmon silko tony kushner and heidi schreck
