written by a respected science educator and advocate for women and girls in stem fields this one stop resource provides a rich overview of efforts to provide women and girls with greater access to educational and career opportunities in traditionally male dominated stem fields since the passage of title ix the numbers of american women working in stem fields have increased particularly in the social and biological sciences nonetheless women continue to be underrepresented in stem disciplines accounting for less than a third of the current stem workforce when the intersection of sociocultural factors such as race ethnicity and socioeconomic background are examined alongside gender some demographic groups of women continue to lag in terms of representation in all stem fields the reasons cited for this continued state of affairs remain hotly debated even as efforts intensify to break down longstanding gender barriers and bring women and girls into the worlds of science technology engineering and mathematics women and girls in stem fields provides wide ranging complementary coverage of every aspect of the issue from the historical barriers that confronted generations of american women and girls interested in pursuing careers in various stem disciplines to the laws and movements that dismantle some of those obstacles features include smartly organized chapters on major trends issues debates and historical moments carefully selected profiles of the key organizations and individuals that have shaped discussions of this subject in washington d c and across the usa a suite of original essays from educators scholars and women writing about their firsthand experiences in today s stem world this book draws together leading student assessment academics from across europe exploring student monitoring policies and practices in a range of countries across 22 chapters the chapters in the first part offer a broad overview on student assessment covering history and current status aims and approaches as well as methodological challenges of international student assessment the second part presents country specific chapters provide an in depth look examining country specific policy and practices and findings of national and or international assessments findings are critically discussed and recommendations are made for further development of each country s assessment context the book shows similarities and differences within the educational assessment landscape as well as complexity and similarities in assessment policy documents and strategies given the globalized world we live in today this book fills a need in the higher educational context and is intended for for policy makers in different countries as well the composition of the american population is rapidly changing from a white male dominated society to one that is so diverse it will soon be without any single dominant race ethnicity or gender this book was created to provide a single source of easily accessible facts obtained primarily from u s government agencies comparing characteristics of race ethnicity and gender in graphic format to enhance comprehension as only visual presentations can achieve virtually all major socio economic topics are covered including geographic distribution of populations birth rates health wealth poverty income employment crime incarcerations social behaviors education and political preferences included are past and future trends for many characteristics as are comparisons between foreign born natural citizens legal and undocumented immigrants the dramatic demographic shifts in american society have provoked many false claims and distortions of facts that have fueled demagoguery as occurred during the 2016 presidential campaign access to unvarnished facts about people different than you but who are becoming your neighbors is more critical now than ever special features socio economic characteristics between races ethnicities and genders in america comparisons include health education wealth poverty income employment crime incarcerations social behaviors geographic distributions and political preferences includes foreign born and natural citizens lawful and undocumented immigrants all data are graphically displayed for easy visualization and comprehension attributed sources for all data include web addresses to enable additional research only factual data are presented without editorial comments or opinions interesting facts found in america s diverse population include more than one in eight persons residing in the u s in 2015 were born elsewhere approximately one in four persons with green cards resided in california in 2013 over three million temporary workers were admitted into the u s in 2014 in 2009 over two thirds of convictions of undocumented immigrants were for violations of immigration law and two percent for crimes against persons approximately one of three black or african american children live in households with both married parents compared with ninety five percent of asian households in 2013 one of eight high school age hispanic or latino females reported they were forced to have sex in 2015 ninety seven percent of kindergarten teachers were women approximately one half of all maids and housekeeping cleaners in 2015 were hispanic or latino women in 2015 almost one in four asian females held a master s degree the highest rate of any race or ethnicity in 2013 the number of non hispanic white children in the u s grades k 8 fell below fifty percent of students for the first time south african universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy the dominant medium of instruction in the universities is english and to a much lesser extent afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools the focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully the volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by south african educators to a wider international audience this handbook unifies access and opportunity two key concepts of sociology of education throughout its 25 chapters it explores today s populations rarely noticed such as undocumented students first generation college students and lgbtqs and emphasizing the intersectionality of gender race ethnicity and social class sociologists often center their work on the sources and consequences of inequality this handbook while reviewing many of these explanations takes a different approach concentrating instead on what needs to be accomplished to reduce inequality a special section is devoted to new methodological work for studying social systems including network analyses and school and teacher effects additionally the book explores the changing landscape of higher education institutions their respective populations and how labor market opportunities are enhanced or impeded by differing postsecondary education pathways written by leading sociologists and rising stars in the field each of the chapters is embedded in theory but contemporary and futuristic in its implications this handbook serves as a blueprint for identifying new work for sociologists of education and other scholars and policymakers trying to understand many of the problems of inequality in education and what is needed to address them
