the devastatingly original debut novel from a winner of the windham campbell prize for fiction profoundly moving i cannot remember when i last read something as touching as this amitav ghosh author of the glass palace first published by a small press in india jerry pinto s debut novel has already taken the literary world by storm suffused with compassion humor and hard won wisdom em and the big hoom is a modern masterpiece and its american publication is certain to be one of the major literary events of the season meet imelda and augustine or as our young narrator calls his unusual parents em and the big hoom most of the time em smokes endless beedis and sings her way through life she is the sun around which everyone else orbits but as enchanting and high spirited as she can be when em's bipolar disorder seizes her she becomes monstrous sometimes with calamitous consequences for herself and others this accomplished debut is graceful and urgent with a one of a kind voice that will stay with readers long after the last page in a one bedroom hall kitchen in mahim bombay imelda mendes em to her children holds her family in thrall with her flamboyance her compelling imagination her unspoken love her sometimes cruel candour through this her husband to whom she was once buttercup her son and daughter learn to cope with her mania and her frequent wish to die a searing and at times darkly funny study of mental illness and also a deeply moving story about love and family relationships literatures of madness disability studies and mental health brings together scholars working in disability studies mad studies feminist theory indigenous studies postcolonial theory jewish literature queer studies american studies trauma studies and comics to create an intersectional community of scholarship in literary disability studies of mental health the collection contains essays on canonical authors and lesser known and sometimes forgotten writers including sylvia plath louisa may alcott hannah weiner mary jane ward michelle cliff lee maracle joanne greenberg ann bannon jerry pinto persimmon blackbridge and others the volume addresses the under representation of madness and psychiatric disability in the field of disability studies which traditionally focuses on physical disability and explores the controversies and the common ground among disability studies anti psychiatric discourses mad studies graphic medicine and health medical humanities beautiful informative and inspirational this book answers the challenge of how to turn any large space into a warm inviting home rich with personal style the author also includes a frequently asked questions section as well as resource information for everything from furniture to flooring and lighting
