collaborative teaching or co teaching is a powerful way to support the learning of students with diverse learning needs but how do you know when you're doing it right and if you're not what can you do about that? Authors Wendy W. Murawski and Wendy W. Lochner introduce the Collaborative Teaching Improvement Model of Excellence (CTIME), a continuous improvement model that embraces personalized professional learning to ensure that teachers meet the core competencies for co-teaching without burning out along the way. Incorporating a systematic application of collaborative groups, data analysis, microteaching, feedback, and collegial support, CTIME is the culmination of the best research in the field. As Murawski and Lochner walk you through their data-driven, no-fail model of co-teaching, you'll learn about the CTIME process and how it works, co-teaching core competencies measured schoolwide and at the classroom level, assessment of progress toward mastery, co-teaching action plans, professional learning communities, and schoolwide improvement. Co-teaching communities of practice and microteaching, co-teaching facilitation, feedback, and reflection offering a practical approach to achieving mastery of the co-teaching core competencies. This book provides dozens of strategies, resources, and templates that can be used by district-level administrators, principals, and co-teaching teams. If you're ready to examine your co-teaching practices to make sure you're achieving the best possible outcomes for your students, then Beyond Co-Teaching Basics is for you.

This hands-on practical guide for ESL/EFL teachers and teacher educators outlines for those who are new to doing action research what it is and how it works. Straightforward and reader-friendly, it introduces the concepts and offers a step-by-step guide to going through an action research process, including illustrations drawn widely from international contexts. Specifically, the text addresses action research and how it differs from other forms of research, the steps involved in developing an action research project, ways of developing a research focus, methods of data collection, approaches to data analysis, making sense of action research for further classroom action. Each chapter includes a variety of pedagogical activities: pre-reading questions ask readers to consider what they already know about the topic; reflection points invite readers to think about, discuss, what they have read; action points ask readers to carry out action research tasks based on what they have read; classroom voices illustrate aspects of action research from teachers internationally; summary points provide a synopsis of the main points in the chapter, bringing the how-to and the what-together. Doing Action Research in English Language Teaching is the perfect text for Batesol and Matesol courses in which action research is the focus or a required component.
