over the last 30 years the post war centre ground which recognized the welfare state the funding of education protection of the environment and the management of capitalism as the proper business of the state has fragmented emphasis on the freedom of the individual and the proper limitations of state power has changed the climate of everyday life this book locates the roots of radical conservatism in the writings of nietzsche dostoyevsky heidegger junger and schmitt it documents the radical conservative worldview and points to limitations in its perspective dahl asserts that we should be wary of considering radical conservatism as a singular phenomenon and discusses global divergences in belief and policy

this book focuses on the philosophy politics and impact of the new right which originated in france and has since influenced activism ideology and policy in a number of european countries this book explores the idea that revolutionaries do not necessarily need to come from the left nor use arms in order to overturn liberal democracy in the post world war two era the extremists of the revolutionary right took three different paths 1 parliamentary 2 extra parliamentary and 3 metapolitical the new right nouvelle droite nd in france took the metapolitical path but that did not mean it abandoned its revolutionary desire to smash liberal democracy throughout europe the book examines four interpretations of the new right these interpretations include the following 1 the new right as a fascist or quasi fascist movement 2 the new right as a challenge to the traditional right left dichotomy which has structured european political debates for more than 200 years 3 the new right as an alternative modernist movement which rejects liberal and socialist narratives of modernity accepts the technical but not political or cultural effects of modernity and longs for a pan european political framework abolishing liberal multiculturalism and privileging ethnic dominance of so called original europeans and 4 the new right as a variant of political religion and conversionary processes the book concludes by analysing the positions cultural and political impact and relationship to democracy of the new right this work will be of great interest to students and scholars of racism fascism extremism european politics french politics and contemporary political theory by taking new steps in updating and revisiting political liberalism this book reconstructs rawls s implicit view of constituent power beyond the pages dedicated to it in political liberalism and brings that view into conversation with major constitutional theories of the twentieth century what is play why do we play what can play teach us about our life as social beings in this critical investigation into the significance of play henning eichberg argues that through play we can ask questions about the world others and ourselves playing a game and asking a question are two forms of human practice that are fundamentally connected this book presents a practice based philosophical approach to understanding play that begins with empirical study drawing on historical sociological and anthropological investigations of play in the real world from contemporary danish soccer to war games and folk dances its ten chapters explore topics such as play as a practice of search playing learning and progress the light and dark sides of play playing games sport and display folk sports popular games and social identity play under the conditions of alienation from these explorations emerge a phenomenological approach to understanding play and its value in interrogating ourselves and our social worlds this book offers a challenging contribution to the interdisciplinary field of the philosophy of play it will be fascinating reading for any student or researcher interested in social and cultural anthropology phenomenology and critical sociology as well as the ethics and philosophy of sport leisure studies and the sociology of sport this book will suggest new agendas for identity and heritage studies by means of presenting contentious issues facing archaeology and heritage management in a globalized world the book is not only present the variability of heritage objectives and experiences in the new and old world and opens a discussion in a shrinking world to look beyond national and regional contexts if the heritage sector and archaeology are to remain relevant in our contemporary world and the near future there are a number of questions concerning the politics practices and narratives related to heritage and identity that must be addressed questions of relevance in an affluent cosmopolitan setting are at odds with those relevant for a region emerging from civil war or ethnic strife or a national minority battling oppression or ethnic cleansing a premise is that heritage represents a broad scope of empirically and theoretically sound interpretations that heritage is a response to contemporary forces as much as data it is therefore necessary constantly to evaluate what is scientifically accurate as well as what is valid and relevant and what can have a contemporary impact a post colonial reconstruction of africa surveys the significant reconstruction work undertaken in the social and political organization of sub saharan african society in the decades following the colonial interruption and subjects these efforts to rigorous criticism in order to establish whether they can carry the weight of modernization efforts in africa to examine the significant trends it highlights the work of african intellectuals such as kwasi wiredu kwame gyekye paulin hountondji kwame nkrumah anthony appiah ato sekyl otu and bernard matolino pieter h coetzee argues that reconstruction inspired by traditional communitarian systems of social organization including the modified form presented by matolino do not adequately do justice to the liberty aspirations of individuals in an era when the demand for increased democratization has become globally paramount reconstruction efforts inspired by appeal to native traditions of liberalism including native conceptions of individual rights fare better in this regard however current reconstruction efforts have done little to rescue africans from the negative economic effects of colonialism and neo colonialism and fail to alleviate self perception problems created by western racism appiah s cosmopolitan option and sekyi otu s left universalism are notable exceptions
